ADDITIONAL CHILD TAX CREDIT FOR BONA FIDE RESIDENTS OF PUERTO RICO

(Benefit provided by the Federal Government to qualified residents of Puerto Rico)

The U.S. Self-Employment Tax Return (Including the Additional Child Tax Credit for Bona Fide Residents of Puerto Rico) (Form 1040-SS) allows you to claim the Additional Child Tax Credit, if you comply with the following requirements:

- you are a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico;
- you made contributions to Social Security or Medicare from your salaries or paid the U.S. self-employment tax; and
- you have three (3) or more children under the age of 17.

For additional information and free assistance through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program Centers (VITA), contact the Internal Revenue Service at (1) (800) 829-1040.

TAXPAYER MOVED TO PUERTO RICO DURING THE YEAR

If you were a resident of another country and changed your residence to Puerto Rico during the taxable year, you must inform the Government of Puerto Rico the total income received from the date of the residence change until the end of your taxable year and the income from sources within Puerto Rico received while not residing in Puerto Rico.

A taxpayer's residence is determined based upon the facts and circumstances of each case. Generally, an individual is considered a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico if he/she is domiciled in Puerto Rico. It shall be presumed that an individual is a resident of Puerto Rico if he/she has been present in Puerto Rico for a period of 183 days during the calendar year. However, if his/her intention regarding to his/her stay is merely temporary and meets other requirements, even when he/she had been in Puerto Rico 183 days or more, he/she may not be considered a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico.

The income from sources outside of Puerto Rico received by an individual attributable to the period when he/she was not a resident of Puerto Rico is not taxable in Puerto Rico. Therefore, deductions attributable to the amounts so excluded from the gross income will not be allowed.

Nonresident individuals will be taxed in Puerto Rico only on their income from sources within Puerto Rico.

Likewise, if the individual changes his/her residence from Puerto Rico to the United States or a foreign country, he/she will include on the Puerto Rico income tax return all the income earned until the date he/she changed his/her residence to the United States or a foreign country, regardless of the source of said income. Also, he/she will include on his/her Puerto Rico income tax return, the income from sources within Puerto Rico earned after the change of residence.

Be sure to complete questions B and C of the Questionnaire on page 1 of the return.

NAME, ADDRESS AND SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Write the required information in the spaces provided.

It is important that you write your social security number in the corresponding box of the return and schedules. This number is necessary to process your return.

ELECTRONIC ADDRESS (E-MAIL)

Include an electronic mail address in the space provided for this purpose.

AMENDED RETURN

If after filing your original return, you find out that you omitted some income, did not claim a certain deduction or credit, or claimed a deduction or credit for which you do not qualify, you must amend the return. Select the oval corresponding to Amended Return. You must include a detail explaining why you are amending the return.

Such return must be filed within 4 years from the date the original return was filed.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

If there was a change of address at the moment of filing the return, select the corresponding oval and write clearly and legible your new address. This allows us to keep our records up to date and send you any notice to the correct address.

EXTENSION OF TIME REQUESTED

Select the corresponding oval to indicate if an Extension of Time to File the Income Tax Return (Form AS 2644) was filed.

If for any reason you understand that you will not be able to file your return on time, you shall request an automatic extension of time no later than the due date to file the return. The request will be done filing electronically Form AS 2644. If you file this form on time, the extension will be granted automatically for a period of 6 months. Filing an extension of time does not extend the time for payment of any tax due with the return.

In case of military personnel active in combat zone, refer to RELEVANT FACTS.

TAXPAYER DECEASED DURING THE TAXABLE YEAR

If a taxpayer dies during the taxable year, the administrator or representative must file an income tax return including the income derived until the date of death, on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the date of death. Such return shall be signed by the administrator or representative. If the taxpayer was married and living with his/her spouse, two returns will be filed: one including both spouses' income from January 1st to the date of death, and another with the surviving spouse's income for the remaining months of the year.

The personal exemption on the first return will be married living with spouse. On the second one, the surviving spouse can claim the personal exemption he or she is entitled to at the end of the taxable year.

On the first return, select the oval that indicates deceased during the year. Indicate the date of death and keep for your records copy of the Death Certificate. On the second return, select the oval that indicates surviving spouse files another return for the taxable year and include the social security number and date of death of the deceased spouse. Both ovals are located at the top right side of the return.

CONTRACTS WITH GOVERNMENTAL ENTITIES

Every person, natural or juridical, contracted by a governmental entity, must comply with Executive Order 91-24, as amended, and the provisions of the Department's Circular Letters in force at the time of processing the contracts. According to said provisions, every contract subscribed by a governmental entity must include a clause to certify that the contracted party filed the income tax returns for the last five years, and that the income, property, unemployment, temporary disability and drivers' social security taxes, whichever applies, have been paid.

In addition, in order to approve a contract or purchase order, the governmental entity must require the tax return filing (Form SC 6088) and debt (Form SC 6096) certifications from the Internal Revenue Area of this Department, the property tax certification from the CRIM and the corresponding certification from the Department of Labor and Human Resources. These documents must be requested annually.

In order to expedite the process of issuing the certifications, every person who has filed income tax returns for the last 5 years and who does not have tax debts, or if having debts, has formalized a payment plan, will receive automatically by mail the Tax Return Filing and Debt Certification (Form SC 2628). For this purpose, it is necessary that the corresponding oval in the Questionnaire on page 1 of the return is completed, if you or your spouse are contracted by a governmental organism.

Since sometimes the tax return for the last filing year cannot be certified because the return has not been processed by the Department, it is recommended that at the moment of filing the return, you print a copy of the electronically filed return with the Department's electronic filing stamp.

QUESTIONNAIRE

In question A, select the corresponding oval to inform if you are a United States citizen. Those taxpayers who are not citizens of the United States, but exclusively for tax purposes are treated as such because of a treaty, a court decision, or for having a United States Permanent Resident Card, ISCR Form I-551, also known as "Green Card", must answer "Yes" in this question in order to be entitled to the corresponding deductions and exemptions.

Select the corresponding oval in question B to indicate if you were a resident of Puerto Rico during the entire taxable year. If you were not a resident during the entire taxable year, select the oval that describes your residence status for the taxable year.

In the case that you had moved to or from Puerto Rico, indicate the date on which the moving took place and include in question C the total income generated by the taxpayer and spouse, as applicable, before being considered residents of Puerto Rico.

If you were a nonresident of Puerto Rico during the entire year, select the oval of nonresident during the entire year. Include in question C the total income generated during the year from sources outside of Puerto Rico.

Income included in question C will not be subject to the payment of income tax in Puerto Rico, but will be used to compute the limitation of the deductions applicable to individual taxpayers included on Schedule A Individual or Schedule CO Individual, as applicable. This amount shall be transferred to line 2, Part II of Schedule A Individual or line 25B, Column B or C, as applicable, of Schedule CO Individual.

Also, you must inform in question D if you received excluded or tax exempt income during the year (Example: social security income, prizes from the Lottery of Puerto Rico or from racetrack winnings). Submit Schedule IE Individual including such income.

In question E, you must also indicate if you are a resident individual investor. Submit Schedule F1 Individual. You must inform in question F if you are a partner of a partnership subject to tax under the Federal Internal Revenue Code. You must include on Schedule R Individual your distributable share on such partnership's income, expenses, gains or losses.

Indicate also in question G if during the taxable year you were stationed as an active military in a combat zone. If you answered "Yes", include the date on which you ceased service in the combat zone.

The taxpayer must include with the return the military order showing his/her transfer outside Puerto Rico, his/her stay in a warlike conflict and the date of the return.

You must indicate in question H, if you or your spouse are qualified physicians under Act 14-2017 and include the number of the decree approved by the Secretary of the Puerto Rico Department of Economic Development and Commerce.

HIGHEST SOURCE OF INCOME

Select the corresponding oval in accordance with your highest source of income.

FILING STATUS AT THE END OF THE TAXABLE YEAR

Select the oval that identifies your filing status at the end of the taxable year:

- 1) Married - This filing status is for every individual that at the end of the year is legally married and living together with his or her spouse.

However, those individuals that, before their marriage, executed a prenuptial agreement expressly stipulating that the economic regime of the married couple is one of complete separation of property, will not be considered married for income tax purposes. Consequently, each spouse will be taxed separately as an individual taxpayer for income tax purposes.

If your spouse died during the year and you did not remarry in said year, you must file a return as married living with spouse up to the date of the death, and another as individual taxpayer, from the date of the death up to the end of the year. You must submit your spouse's name and social security number.

If you choose the optional computation of tax in the case of married individuals living together and filing a joint return, select the corresponding oval and go to Schedule CO Individual.

- 2) Individual Taxpayer - This filing status is for those individuals who at the end of the taxable year:

a) are not married, because they have never married, are widowed or divorced; or

b) are married, but, before their marriage, executed a prenuptial agreement expressly stipulating that the economic regime of the married couple is one of complete separation of property (you must provide your spouse's name and social security number); or

c) are married, but not living with the spouse. An individual will be considered as not living with his/her spouse if at the end of the taxable year, he or she did not live with the spouse, and during an uninterrupted period of 12 months that includes the date of the end of the taxable year, he or she did not live in the same household as the spouse during an uninterrupted period of 183 days. You must provide your spouse's name and social security number.

- 3) Married filing separately - This filing status is for individuals that at the end of the taxable year are legally married, living together, and choose to file separately. If you file under this status, you should include your own income as provided under Section 1021.03 of the Code. Also, the exemption for dependents and certain deductions must be allocated 50% to each spouse and others may be claimed fully by the spouse to whom they relate. You must provide your spouse's name and social security number.

OPTIONAL COMPUTATION OF TAX

If you choose the optional computation of tax in the case of married individuals living together and filing a joint return, select the corresponding oval in the married filing status. Do not complete Parts 1 and 2 or lines 14 to 20 of Part 3, page 2 of the return. Go to Schedule CO Individual and refer to the instructions of said Schedule.

OCCUPATION

Inform the nature of your and your spouse's occupation. In order to facilitate the description of the activity in which you are engaged, enter the code that better describes it using the Occupational Codes List provided on page 65.

REFUND

Line 1 – Amount Overpaid

An overpayment of tax or refund arises when the total tax withheld, paid and refundable credit, including any amount paid with the automatic extension (if any) exceeds the tax determined. This amount comes from Part 3, page 2 of the return and arises when line 27 is more than the sum of lines 26 and 28.

Any overpayment of income tax will be applied against any enforceable tax liability imposed by the Code.

If you are married and one of the spouses owes tax, the tax overpayment shall be credited against any enforceable tax liability.

In the absence of liability from previous years, you may elect to contribute all or part of the overpayment of tax to the 2019 estimated tax, the San Juan Bay Estuary Special Fund or the Special Fund for the University of Puerto Rico.

If you elect to do so, enter the amount that you want to credit to your estimated tax for the taxable year 2019 on line 1A, or the amount you wish to contribute to any of these Funds on lines 1B and 1C, respectively. Enter any balance to be refunded on line 1D.

You must keep for your records evidence of the estimated tax payments (copy of canceled or substitute checks, money orders, etc.).

PAYMENT

Line 2 – Amount of Tax Due

If the tax determined exceeds the total tax withheld, paid, refundable credit and amount paid with the automatic extension (if any), there is a total tax due. This amount comes from Part 3, page 2 of the return and results when line 27 is less than the sum of lines 26 and 28.

Line 3 - Amount paid

You may pay your tax through electronic debit when you use any of the programs or applications certified by the Department. If an electronic debit is authorized through a certified program or application, you must enter the amount on line 3(a). Remember to enter in the corresponding screen of the certified program the information of the account number and routing/transit number necessary to make the electronic debit. On the other hand, if you prefer to pay your tax in cash or money order, you must visit any Internal Revenue Collections Office.

If you are not required to make estimated tax payments, you may elect to pay the total tax due (line 2) in two equal installments. The first installment must be paid no later than the date established by the Code to file the return (April 15, when the return is filed on a calendar year basis) and the second installment must be paid on or before the 15th day of the sixth month following that date (October 15, when the return is filed on a calendar year basis). You will lose the option to pay the tax in two installments if you do not include with your return at least half of the tax balance due.

If you made a payment with your automatic extension request and it was less than 50% of the balance of the tax due determined after subtracting withholdings and credits (Line 24 less lines 25A and 25B of Part 3), you must pay with the return the amount of tax due (Line 2, page 1). Interests and surcharges will be assessed on this amount from the original due date of the return to the date of payment.

If you made a payment with your automatic extension request on or before the date in which you should have filed the return, and the payment made with said request was 50% or more of the balance of tax due determined after subtracting withholdings and credits (Line 24 less lines 25A and 25B of Part 3), you are entitled to the two installments payment option. This means that no payment is required when filing the return. The second installment is due on or before October 15, if you file your return on a calendar year basis. If you file on a fiscal year basis, the second installment is due on the fifteenth day of the sixth month following the due date to file the return.

If you decide to pay the tax due in two installments, enter the amount you are paying with your return on line 3(a).

If you wish to pay in cash, with debit or credit card, by check or money order payable to the Secretary of the Treasury, you can do so at any of our Internal Revenue Collections Offices. In the case of check or money order, you must indicate your social security number and Form 482.0–2018.

Make sure to keep and photocopy the receipt provided by the Collector.

INTERESTS, SURCHARGES AND PENALTIES

Interests

The Code provides for the payment of interests at a 10% annual rate over any tax balance that is not paid by its due date.

Surcharges

When the payment of interests is applicable, a 5% surcharge of the amount due will be assessed, if the delay in payment exceeds 30 days, but not 60 days; or 10% of the amount due, if the delay exceeds 60 days.

Penalties

The Code imposes a progressive penalty from 5% to 25% of the total tax for late filing unless you can show reasonable cause for the delay.

Also, any person required under the Code to file a return, declaration, certification or report, who voluntarily fails to file such return, declaration, certification or report within the term or terms required by the Code or regulations, in addition to other penalties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

If any person voluntarily fails to file the above mentioned return, declaration, certification or report (within the terms required by the Code or regulations) with the intention to avoid or defeat any tax imposed by the Code, in addition to other penalties, he or she shall be guilty of a third degree felony.

Line 4 - Balance of Tax Due

This is the amount of tax that you owe and that you must pay on or before October 15 or, if you are filing on a fiscal year basis, on or before the 15th day of the sixth month after the due date of the return.

Remember that if you are required to pay estimated tax, you must pay the total amount of tax due (line 2) no later than the date in which the tax return must be filed.

PART 1 - ADJUSTED GROSS INCOME

CHILD INCOME (Section 1032.05)

All income received by a child for a service rendered must be included as part of his/her gross income and not in the gross income of the parents. The child will have the obligation to file a return if his/her gross income exceeds $5,000 and will have the right to claim all the deductions provided by law that are applicable. On the other hand, passive income such as interests, dividends, donations, prizes and contests, among others, will not be included as part of the gross income of the child. Therefore, that income will be included on the parent's return.

If the child receives income from services rendered, and said gross income does not exceed $2,500, the parents can claim him/her as a dependent. In case that the child is a regular student, said gross income should not exceed $7,500.

If you generated a net gain or loss on the sale or exchange of capital assets or a lump-sum distribution of a variable annuity contract, use Schedule D Individual to determine it and transfer to Part 1, line 2B of the return. (See instructions of Schedule D Individual).

Use Schedule F Individual to inform income from distributions of Individual Retirement Accounts and Educational Contribution Accounts; distributions and transfers from government plans; distributions from deferred compensation plans; distributions from qualified retirement plans (partial or lump-sum not due to separation from service or plan termination); income from discharge of debts, income from the use of intangibles, income from judicial or extrajudicial indemnification, income from sports teams of international associations or federations and the distributable share on net income subject to preferential rates from pass-through entities; and eligible distributions for reason of extreme economic emergency due to hurricane Maria. In the case of nonresidents, include on line 2Q the total income from salaries, wages and compensations included on line 1 of the Informative Return - Income Subject to Withholding – Nonresidents (Form 480.6C). Also include the amount informed as public shows in box 12 of Form 480.6C.

Enter on line 2R the alimony income received due to divorce or separation that does not constitutes child support for the spouse that made the payment. You must provide the social security number of the person making the payment.

LOSSES

Losses incurred in activities that are not the taxpayer's or his/her spouse's principal business or industry may be used to offset only future income from the same activity that produced the loss.

However, if during the taxable year you dispose all the assets used in an activity that is not your or your spouse's principal business or industry, you may use the excess of expenses (losses) not claimed in previous years, as a deduction against any income derived in said disposition. Any excess will be considered as a capital loss subject to the limitation of 80% of the net capital gains for the current year or $1,000, whichever is less. If there is any loss, you can claim up to $ 1,000 as a deduction in each of the next five, seven or ten years, as applicable. (See instructions for Schedule D Individual).

Losses incurred in an industry or business that is the taxpayer's or the spouse's principal business or industry, may be used to offset your income from other sources, except salaries, wages and pension benefits.

To classify an economic activity as a principal industry or business, the following facts shall be considered:

- Time devoted to the activity.
- If the taxpayer is dedicated to the activity in a regular, continuous and substantial basis.
- Taxpayer's knowledge and experience with respect to the activity's operation.
- If such activity essentially constitutes the taxpayer's way of living.

However, the determination as to what constitutes the taxpayer's principal industry or business shall depend on the facts and circumstances present in each case. The taxpayer must show that a particular activity constitutes his/her principal industry or business. The fact that he/she does so with respect to a particular year, does not automatically qualify such activity as his/her principal industry or business for subsequent years. Thus, the taxpayer must be able to show that such activity constitutes his/her principal industry or business with respect to each taxable year.

If you were a salaried employee and also engaged in any trade or business as your principal activity, and had a loss in that year, you may deduct said loss from your or your spouse's salaries and wages only in the first year in which you began the business and in the following two years. This is a once in a lifetime benefit. Therefore, if you have benefited from the above, you cannot benefit again from the same allowance.

Line 4 - Alimony Paid

Generally, you may claim as a deduction any periodic payment made for alimony under a divorce or separation decree, as long as you comply with the following requirements:

- 1) Payment is made in the name and for the benefit of the former spouse under a divorce or separation document.
- 2) Payment is not designated in such document as excludible from the recipient's gross income and not allowable as a deduction to the payer.
- 3) The payer and the former spouse are not members of the same household on the date of payment.
- 4) There is no obligation to continue making any payments after the death of the former spouse.
- 5) If the payment exceeds $20,000 during any calendar year, it shall be payable during each one of at least 6 years following the divorce or separation.

You must provide the social security number of the person who receives the payment and the judgment number. You must keep for your records copy of canceled or substitute checks and the divorce decree.

Lump-sum payments for assets division, voluntary payments not included in a court decree or agreement for separation support, or child support payments, are not deductible.

PART 2 – DEDUCTIONS, EXEMPTIONS AND NET TAXABLE INCOME

Line 6 – Total Deductions

Enter the total deductions corresponding to individual taxpayers, as determined on Schedule A Individual, Part I, line 11. In the case of nonresidents or part-year residents, enter the total deductions applicable to individual taxpayers, as determined on line 6, Part II of Schedule A Individual. Remember not to submit evidence of the deductions with the return. However, you must keep the evidence for these deductions for your records for at least 6 years, in case they may be eventually requested by the Department.

For additional information, you can refer to the instructions of Schedule A Individual.

Line 7 – Personal Exemption

Enter the amount of your personal exemption corresponding to your filing status. If you are married living with spouse filing jointly, enter $7,000; if individual taxpayer, enter $3,500; if married filing separately, enter $3,500.

Line 8 – Exemption for Dependents

Enter in the spaces provided on lines 8A and 8B, the number of dependents claimed according to their category. Indicate on line 8A the dependents with respect to whom the exemption may be claimed completely ($2,500 per dependent), and on line 8B those whose exemption is only claimed in half under the special rule of parents with joint custody or married filing separate returns ($1,250 per dependent).

Multiply the amount of dependents claimed in each category (line 8A by $2,500 and line 8B by $1,250) and enter the result in the space provided for the total exemption for dependents.

The Code requires you to indicate on your return the social security number of any dependent claimed who is age one or older at the end of the taxable year. When filing your return, you must include on Schedule A1 Individual, the name, date of birth, relationship, and social security number of each dependent claimed. If you do not complete such schedule, nor meet these requirements, the exemption may be disallowed. If the dependent does not have a social security number, you must request one at your nearest Social Security Office.

For the definition of dependent, refer to the instructions for Schedule A1 Individual.

Line 9 – Additional Personal Exemption for Veterans

Enter the amount of $1,500 if you are veteran of the United States Armed Forces. If married filing jointly and both spouses are veterans, the additional personal exemption is $3,000.

Keep for your records copy of Form DD-214 (Discharge from U.S. Armed Forces).

Line 12 – Allowable deduction under Act 185-2014

In the case of individuals that, pursuant to Act 185-2014, as amended, are considered as accredited investors, they may claim a deduction for their initial investment in a private equity fund (PEF) or in a Puerto Rico private equity fund (PEF-PR). For these purposes, an individual will be considered as an accredited investor if at the moment of the initial investment in a PEF or PEF-PR:

- Is an individual resident of Puerto Rico or a United States citizen nonresident of Puerto Rico;
- Is a natural person who has individual net worth or net worth jointly with his/her spouse in excess of $1,000,000 without including the value of the principal residence; and
- Is a natural person with income over $200,000 in each one of the two years preceding the date of the investment ($300,000 in case of married person) and an expectation of the same level of income during the year in which the investment is made.

The amount allowable as deduction will be the following:

PART I – DEDUCTIONS APPLICABLE TO INDIVIDUAL TAXPAYERS

Line 1 - Enter the amount of home mortgage interest paid or accrued to acquire, refinance, improve or build a property that constitutes a qualified residence. There shall be allowed as a deduction the total amount of interest paid up to a maximum of $35,000, as long as this amount does not exceed the greater of:

- (i) 30% of the adjusted gross income (Part 1, line 5 of the return) plus any other income excluded or exempt from the adjusted gross income, including child support payments (Schedule IE Individual, Part III, line 1) received during the taxable year for which the deduction is claimed; or
- (ii) 30% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income plus any other income excluded or exempt from the adjusted gross income, including child support payments, for any of the preceding three (3) taxable years before the year for which the deduction is claimed.

These limitations will not apply when the taxpayer or his/her spouse is age 65 or older at the end of the taxable year. If you qualify for this exception, make sure to indicate the date of birth for you and your spouse (if applicable) on page 1 of the return.

If you qualify for exception (ii), please complete question D of the Questionnaire, page 1 of the return and select the oval provided on line 1(j), Part I of this Schedule.

You must keep for your records the Informative Return - Mortgage Interest (Form 480.7A) provided by the financial institution.

Enter in the spaces provided on lines 1(a) through 1(d), the name and employer identification number of the banking or financial institution to which the payments were made, the loan number and the total amount of home mortgage interest paid, as reported on Form 480.7A.

In the case of nonresidents of Puerto Rico taxpayers who are citizens of the United States, there shall be allowed as a deduction the total home mortgage interest paid or accrued to acquire, refinance, improve or build a property that constitutes the principal residence of the taxpayer. This first residence may be located outside of Puerto Rico and in most cases the interest paid will be reported on Form 1098 - Mortgage Interest Statement.

Deduction shall not be allowed for interest on home mortgages in other residences, which are not the principal residence of the taxpayer, if such interests are not informed on Form 480.7A.

To claim this deduction, the taxpayer must include with the return the required information of Form 1098 - Mortgage Interest Statement. Also, on line 1 (e) you must select oval 2 that corresponds to Form 1098 and other.

Qualified residence means:

- 1) the principal residence of the taxpayer;
- 2) a second residence located in Puerto Rico and used by the taxpayer, or by any other person that has an interest in that property or by any member of his/her family, as a residence for a number of days that exceeds the greater of:
 - a) 14 days, or
 - b) 10% of the number of days during the taxable year in which the property has been rented at the prevailing rental market value.

Interest payments attributable to any portion of the mortgage debt in excess of the residence fair market value are not deductible.

A participant partner of a housing cooperative association may deduct payments representing home mortgage interest.

If you use a personal loan to acquire, build or improve a qualified residence, which is not accepted by a mortgage institution as a mortgage guarantee, you must keep for your records a copy of the property tax exemption application or of the appraised revision of the property.

Also, loan origination fees (Points) paid directly by the borrower and loan discounts (Points) paid directly by the borrower, will be admitted as home mortgage interest deduction for the year in which they were incurred, as long as the following requirements are met:

- 1) they are reported on the Informative Return – Mortgage Interest (Form 480.7A or equivalent form (i.e. Form 1098)),
- 2) they are paid to acquire the principal residence,
- 3) they are paid by the taxpayer; if they are financed through the mortgage loan, they will be deductible throughout the term of the loan, and
- 4) you keep for your records a copy of the canceled or substitute check.

The loan origination fees and loan discounts financed through a home mortgage loan will be deductible throughout the term of the loan. The deduction that you may claim will be the apportioned amount paid during the term of the loan.

In case of married taxpayers filing separately who only own one residence, one of the spouses has the sole right to claim such deduction. If the married couple has two residences, one spouse may claim the interest of the principal residence and the other spouse may claim the interest of the second residence. However, one of the spouses may claim all the home mortgage interest for both residences, if both spouses agree to that in writing.

The taxpayer must keep for his/her records the written evidence of the cession of such deduction by the spouse.

It is important to point out that for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2016, the taxpayer may claim this deduction, even if he/she is not the borrower or joint borrower of the loan fully guaranteed with mortgage, when he/she can demonstrate that:

- (i) is the legal owner of the property that guarantees the debt or the person who will suffer the real effect of an execution of the same;
- (ii) made all of the debt payments during the taxable year directly to the person required to file the informative return described in Section 1063.04 of the Code (Form 480.7A); and
- (iii) the borrower or joint borrower of the loan fully guaranteed with the mortgage did not claim this deduction.

In the case of taxpayers who comply with the aforementioned requirements and those established in Internal Revenue Circular Letter No. 18-01(CC RI 18-01), may claim the deduction of the mortgage interest paid on the line of Home mortgage interest of the principal residence not reported on Form 480.7A. If after claiming the deduction, you receive any compensation from an insurance company or from a state or federal agency, you must include on the return the total amount received as part of your gross income.

In the case of married persons filing separate returns, or that choose the optional computation of tax, each spouse may claim 50% of this deduction.

Line 3 - Enter the total medical expenses paid not compensated by insurance or in any other form, which exceeds 6% of your adjusted gross income. Transfer to this line the amount of Part III, line 3 of this Schedule.

Under no circumstances the total contributions for each beneficiary account can exceed $500.

This deduction will not be allowed for a taxable year in which the beneficiary has reached the age of 26 by the end of such taxable year.

The taxpayer can make the contribution to the account until the last day established by the Code to file the return, or until the due date of any extension of time granted by the Secretary to file the same.

Transfer to this line the total of Part II, line 21 of Schedule A1 Individual.

You must keep for your records the certification issued by the institution that receives the contributions.

Line 10 - Enter the amount of interest paid or accrued during the taxable year over debts incurred for student loans to cover expenses of the taxpayer, the spouse or dependent for registration, tuition and textbooks at university level, as well as expenses for transportation, meals and lodging in those cases in which the student had to live outside his/her home in order to pursue such studies.

In the spaces provided on this line, enter the name and employer identification number of the financial institution, the loan number and the total interests paid.

You must keep for your records a certification from the bank or financial institution as evidence of the deduction claimed.

PART II – COMPUTATION OF ALLOWABLE AMOUNTS OF DEDUCTIONS TO NONRESIDENT OR PART-YEAR RESIDENT

If in the questionnaire it was indicated that the taxpayer was a nonresident or a part-year resident, use this part to determine the total deductions attributable to the period of residence in Puerto Rico. Follow the guides provided on each line.

PART III – MEDICAL EXPENSES AND CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS

Use this Part to determine the deduction for medical expenses and charitable contributions that you will claim on your return. You must provide a detail of each medical expense or contribution that you made during the year.

See full details for these deductions in the instructions to complete Part I, lines 3 and 4 of this Schedule.

It is very important that you enter the name of the organization to whom the payment was made and the amount paid. Evidence to support your payment must be kept for your records. In the case of charitable contributions, you must also indicate the employer identification number of the entity to which the payment is made.

Transfer the amount of the allowable deduction for medical expenses from line 3 to Part I, line 3 of this Schedule or line 7C of Schedule CO Individual if you choose the optional computation of tax. Transfer the total amount of the allowable deduction for charitable contributions from line 8 to Part I, line 4 of this Schedule or line 7D of Schedule CO Individual, if you choose the optional computation of tax.

SCHEDULE A1 INDIVIDUAL - DEPENDENTS AND BENEFICIARIES OF EDUCATIONAL CONTRIBUTION ACCOUNTS

In order to process the information of your dependents and claim the exemption, you must complete this Schedule and submit it with your return.

REMINDER: To claim the deduction for dependents the taxpayer must provide more than half of the support for the dependent, as provided on the Code and the corresponding Regulations.

PART I - DEPENDENT'S INFORMATION

The term dependent means:

- 1) a person who at the end of the calendar year in which the taxpayer's taxable year begins has not reached the age of twenty-one (21);
- 2) the taxpayer's father or mother;
- 3) a person who is age sixty-five (65) or older;
- 4) a person who has reached the age of 21 or more and is blind or incapable of self-support because of being mentally or physically disabled; or
- 5) a university student who at the end of the calendar year in which the taxpayer's taxable year begins has not reached the age of twenty-six (26), as long as he/she has completed as a regular student, at least one semester in a university or technical - professional institution recognized as such by the educational authorities of Puerto Rico, or of the applicable country, until he/she receives his/her degree.

Notwithstanding the above, to be entitled to claim a dependent, you must comply with the following requirements:

- 1) the person claiming the dependent must provide more than half of the support for the dependent during the calendar year in which the taxpayer's taxable year began;
- 2) the dependent's gross income for the calendar year in which the taxpayer's taxable year began is less than the amount allowed as an exemption for this concept ($2,500). Nevertheless, if the dependent is your child and also a regular student, he/she may earn gross income of up to $7,500, and still you have the right to claim him/her as a dependent.

In the case of children from divorced or separated parents, the exemption for dependent will be claimed by the parent who has the legal custody of the child. However, the parent who has the legal custody may release his/her right to claim the exemption in favor of the parent who does not have that custody. The release should be made using Schedule CH Individual - Transfer of Claim for Exemption for Child (Children) of Divorced or Separated Parents. The parent to whom the right to claim the exemption was released must kept for his/her records Schedule CH Individual duly completed and signed (See Instructions of Schedule CH Individual).

However, in the case of parents that are separated, divorced or do not have a right to file as married, and that have joint custody of their child, the dependent exemption will be divided in half between both parents. The joint custody must have been declared by a competent court or must comply with the definition established under Act 223-2011. In order for each parent to be able to claim half of the exemption, select the oval in the column of Joint Custody. However, one of the parents may claim the total exemption if the other parent releases in writing half of the exemption by using Schedule CH Individual, which should be included with the return.

In the case of parents who are married, living together and elect to file a separate return, each spouse is entitled to claim half of the total exemption for dependents, as in the case of those who choose the optional computation of tax.

An individual required to file a joint return with his or her spouse does not qualify as a dependent.

Nonresident aliens of Puerto Rico do not qualify as dependents.

If the dependent is totally or partially blind, keep for your records a certificate from an ophthalmologist or optometrist indicating the visual condition of the dependent.

If you claimed the exemption for dependents who are university students, or who are disabled, blind or age 65 or older, you must keep for your records the evidence that entitles you to claim the exemption for those dependents.

In the space provided, select the oval that indicates “joint custody” (if applicable), and write the complete name, date of birth, relationship and social security number of all dependents for whom you claim an exemption on your return. Also, classify the dependents in one of the following categories:

Category	Class
(N)	Non university
(U)	University students
(I)	Disabled, blind or age 65 or older

If you do not comply with these requirements, the exemption may be disallowed. Remember that you must include the social security number of all dependents who are age one (1) or older at the end of the taxable year.

PART II - BENEFICIARIES OF EDUCATIONAL CONTRIBUTION ACCOUNTS

In the space provided, write the complete name, relationship, date of birth, and social security number of the beneficiaries for whom you made contributions to an Educational Contribution Account. Indicate also the name and employer identification number of the financial institution, and the account number where the contributions are made. You must also enter the amount of said contributions.

For information regarding who qualifies for this deduction and its limitations, refer to the instructions of Part I, line 9 of Schedule A Individual.

SCHEDULE A2 INDIVIDUAL - TAX ON INCOME SUBJECT TO PREFERENTIAL RATES

Complete this Schedule if during the taxable year you received income subject to preferential rates such as: net long-term capital gain, interests paid or credited on deposits held on certain financial institutions or dividend distributions of certain corporations. Also, if your income subject to preferential rates is equal to or more than $20,000, this Schedule provides for the calculation of the limitation of Deductions Applicable to Individuals Taxpayers required by Section 1033.20 of the Code.

If you are a married taxpayer which elected the optional computation of tax and received income subject to preferential rates required to be attributable to each spouse based on 50% of the total (e.g. interests and dividends), you must complete a Schedule A2 for each spouse. Identify on the superior part if the Schedule belongs to the taxpayer, spouse or both, as applicable.

Line 1 - Transfer the Adjusted Gross Income determined in Part 1, line 5 of the return. The Adjusted Gross Income must consider all income subject to preferential rates, as informed on the other corresponding schedules of the return.

Line 4 – Transfer to Column A and to the corresponding Columns from B to H the different types of income subject to preferential rates as identified on lines 4(a) through 4(l). In Column B, include the income subject to a 20% rate; in Column C, those subject to a 17% rate; in Column D, those subject to a 15% rate; in Column E, those subject to a 10% rate; and in Column F, those subject to a 4% rate.

If you received income subject to a rate other than 4%, 10%, 15%, 17% or 20% under any special act, specify the applicable preferential rate in the blank space provided for it in Columns G and H and include such income in the corresponding Column.

Line 4(a) - Transfer to Column A of this line the amount shown on line 7 of Part VII of Schedule D Individual (Schedule D).

As a general rule, the applicable rate on a realized capital gain is 15%. In such case, include in Column D of this line the amount shown on line 6(a), Column B of Part VII of Schedule D Individual, if any.

However, all or part of the long-term capital gain can be taxed at a different rate, if it was realized under a special legislation. In such case, enter as it corresponds in Columns G and H of this line, the amount shown on line 6(b), Columns C through E of Part VII of Schedule D Individual, if any.

It is important to note that if a net capital loss not used in previous years is claimed, Part VI of Schedule D Individual must be completed to determine the amounts that shall be transferred to this line.

Line 4(d) - Transfer to Column A of this line the amount shown on line 4, Column E of Part I of Schedule FF Individual. Interest on IRA distributions to Government pensioners are taxed at a preferential rate of 10%. Therefore, include the same in Column E of this schedule.

Line 4(h) - Transfer to Column A of this line the amount shown on Schedule D Individual, Part IV, line 25. As a general rule, the applicable rate on total distributions from pension plans is 20%. Therefore, include distributions subject to the 20% rate in Column B and distributions subject to a preferential rate of 10% (if they meet certain requirements set forth in Section 1081.01 (b) of the Code) in Column E. For additional information, see instructions of Part IV of Schedule D Individual.

Line 4(i) - Transfer to Column A of this line the gain determined on Schedules K, L, M or N Individual, as applicable, taxable at a reduced rate under an Incentives Act or wages received by a qualified physician who has a decree under Act 14-2017. Include this amount in Columns B through H, as it corresponds, according to the applicable preferential rate.

Line 4(j) - Transfer to Column A of this line the amount on line 3, Column F, Part V of Schedule F Individual. Include this amount in Columns B through H, as it corresponds to the applicable preferential tax rate.

Line 4(k) - Include on this line any other income subject to a preferential rates not specified on lines 4(a) through 4(j) and 4(l), and distribute it in the corresponding Column, under the applicable preferential rate.

Among others, also include on this line the distributions and transfers of Governmental Plans reported on Schedule F Individual, Part II, line 2, Columns E or F. The lump-sum distributions of Savings Account Plans of $10,000 or more and the transfers from such plans to Non Deductible Individual Retirement Accounts are subject to a preferential rate of 10%. Include these amounts in Column E. Also include the income from other interests subject to withholding under the provisions of special legislation reported on Schedule FF Individual, Part I, line 4, Column F.

Line 4(l) - Transfer to Column A of this line the amount reflected on Schedule F Individual, Part VI, line 10, corresponding to Eligible Distributions from Retirement Plans or IRAs that were received for reason of extreme economic emergency due to hurricane María. These distributions are taxed at a preferential rate of 10%. Therefore, include them in Column E of this schedule.

Line 5 - Add line 4(m) of Columns B through H (you can also add lines 4(a) through 4(l) of Column A). This is your total income subject to preferential rates. If this amount is less than $20,000, the Deductions Applicable to Individual Taxpayers are not subject to limitation. Therefore, enter on line 7, 100% in Column A and 0% in Columns B through H. Also, enter the total amount shown on line 8(a) on line 8(b), Column A.

Line 6 - The Adjusted Gross Income specified on line 3 less the total income subject to preferential rates specified on line 5, constitutes the income that is subject to regular tax according to the tables.

Line 7 - If your total income subject to preferential rates on line 5 is $20,000 or more, calculate on this line the proportion of each income subject to preferential rates and the remaining income subject to regular tax in relation to the total Adjusted Gross Income. Divide line 6 by line 3 and line 4(m) of each Column from B through H by line 3. Enter the applicable percentage rounded to the nearest whole number in the corresponding column of this line.

Line 8(a) - Transfer to this line the Applicable Deductions to Individual Taxpayers as determined on Schedule A Individual, Part I, line 11 (or Part II, line 6 in the case of nonresidents or part-year residents) or Schedule CO Individual, line 8G (or line 8H in the case of nonresidents or part-year residents). These are the only deductions that are subject to the limitation proportional to the income subject to the preferential rates.

Line 8(b) - Multiply line 8(a) by the applicable percentage determined on line 7 for each Column. This amount reflects the portion of Deductions Applicable to Individuals Taxpayers that are attributed to each type of income subject to regular rates and preferential rates.

Lines 8(c) through 8(e) - Transfer the corresponding amounts from Part 2 of the return or the corresponding lines of Schedule CO Individual, as specified. These deductions and exemptions are not subject to the limitation or the proportional distribution. Therefore, all of them will be reduced from the income subject to regular rates.

Line 8(f) - Add the total deductions and exemptions. For Columns B through H, this total will be equal to the amount determined on line 8(b), which is the proportion of Deductions Applicable to Individual Taxpayers that are applicable to each type of income subject to preferential rates.

Line 9 - Distribute among Columns A through H, as it is more beneficial to you, the amount of alimony paid indicated in Part 1, line 4 of page 2 of the return or line 5, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual.

Line 10 - Distribute among Columns A through H, as it is more beneficial to you, the amount of the allowable deduction under Act 185-2014 indicated in Part 2, line 12 of page 2 of the return or line 14, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual.

Line 11 - For Column A, subtract lines 8(f), 9 and 10 from line 6. For Columns B through H, subtract lines 8(f), 9 and 10 from line 4(m) of each individual column.

Line 12 - Determine the tax applicable to the income on line 11 according to the corresponding rate. For Column A, use the regular tax table available on page 17. For Column B, multiply the income on line 11 by 20%. For Column C, multiply the income on line 11 by 17%. For Column D, multiply the income on line 11 by 15%. For Column E, multiply the income on line 11 by 10%. For Column F, multiply the income on line 11 by 4%. For Columns G and H, multiply the income on line 11 by the rate specified in each column, which cannot be 4%, 10%, 15%, 17% or 20%.

Line 15 - Determine the tax applicable to the income on line 14 (line 13 of Part 2 of the return) according to the regular tax table available on page 17. This is your tax amount without considering preferential rates applicable to certain income.

Line 16 - Compare the tax determined on line 13 with the one determined on line 15 and choose the smaller amount. Transfer this amount to page 2, Part 3, line 14 of the return or line 16, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual, if you elected for the optional computation of tax in the case of married taxpayers. Choose the oval corresponding to the selected line as indicated on the Schedule.

SCHEDULE B INDIVIDUAL - RECAPTURE OF CREDITS CLAIMED IN EXCESS, TAX CREDITS, AND OTHER PAYMENTS AND WITHHOLDINGS

Use this schedule to determine the recapture of credits claimed in excess, tax credits, and other payments and withholdings.

PART I - RECAPTURE OF CREDITS CLAIMED IN EXCESS

You must indicate in Columns A, B and C the name and employer identification number of the entity to which the investment credit claimed in excess belongs to. Also, you must select the oval that identifies the act under which the investment or donation was made.

Enter the credit claimed in excess in previous years as a result of the intervention of the Secretary or Director of the Agency or Department, or the Board that regulates each of the following acts: Puerto Rico Tourism Development Act (Act 78-1993, as amended), Solid Waste Authority Act (Act No. 70 of June 23, 1978, as amended), Agricultural Incentives Act (Act 225-1995, as amended), Capital Investment Funds Act (Act No. 3 of October 6, 1987, as amended), Act for the Creation of the Theatrical District of Santurce (Act 178-2000, as amended), Act for the Development of the Film Industry (Act 362-1999, as amended), Puerto Rico Film Industry Economic Incentives Act (Act 27-2011, as amended), Act for Tax Credits for Investment in Housing Infrastructure (Act 98-2001, as amended), Act for Tax Credits for Investment in the Construction or Rehabilitation of Rental Housing Projects for Low or Moderate Income Families (Act 140-2001, as amended), Economic Incentives for the Development of Puerto Rico Act (Act 73-2008) and Conservation Easement Act (Act 183-2001, as amended).

The total investment carried out by the exempt business in the project is subject to the revision of the Secretary or Director of each Agency or Department, or the Special Work Board (Board) in case of the Theatrical District of Santurce. If the investment credit claimed by the investors exceeds the investment credit computed by the Secretary, the Director or the Board, this excess shall be due as income tax. In some cases this debt must be paid by the investors in one installment, and in other cases in two installments beginning with the first taxable year following the date in which the unfulfillment or revocation of the credits is determined or any other date provided by law. The Director, the Secretaries or the Board will notify the Secretary of the Treasury the excess of credit claimed by the investors.

The provisions of the recapture of credit mentioned before will not apply to the participants or investors that are not developers in a project under the Puerto Rico Tourism Development Act and the Puerto Rico Solid Waste Authority Act.

On the other hand, the provisions of the recapture of the credit under the Agricultural Tax Incentives Act will apply to the investors or participants in agricultural businesses.

In the case of condo hotels, the operator of the integrated rental program should send an annual report to the Director and the Secretary identifying the units participating in the integrated rental program. Such report must indicate the aforementioned program beginning dates with respect to the participating units, as well as the date or dates in which one or more units were withdrawn from the program.

In case of Act 178-2000 (theatrical business), Act 140-2001 (rental housing), and Act 109-2001 (business closing operations), if any unit or business is withdrawn from the program, ceases its operations or does not comply with any of the requirements provided by the corresponding law before the expiration of the 10 year period or other period provided by law, the investor will owe as income tax an amount to be computed as provided by law or as follows, as applicable:

$$\text{Income Tax Owed} = \frac{\text{Total investment credit claimed per unit or business} \times \text{Balance of the 10 year period}}{10}$$

In case of owners of a levied property or donors of a conservation easement, in case of an eligible land, they shall be subject to the recapture of the tax credits granted, in the event that the obligations included in the constitution deed of the conservation easement or donation of an eligible land are not fulfilled, as applicable, but only in those cases in which it is impossible to return the land to its original condition. These dispositions will also apply when the perpetuity requirement is not fulfilled by the owners and the titular of the easement.

The income tax amount owed must be paid in one or two installments, whichever applies, beginning with the first taxable year following the date of the withdrawal of the unit, the first taxable year following the cease of operations or any other date provided by law.

Line 1 - Enter the total excess of credit notified by the Director, the Secretary or the Board, or in case of condohotels, theatrical business, business closing operations or rental housing projects for low income families, the total of income tax debt according to the formula previously mentioned or as established by law.

Line 3 - Multiply line 1 by 50% and enter the result here. Transfer the result to Part 3, line 22 of the return. In case that you had paid part of the recapture of excess of credit in the previous year, enter the difference owed.

Line 4 - If this is the first year in which you make the recapture, subtract line 3 from line 1 and enter the difference. This will be the tax debt to be paid for next year. If this is your second year of recapture, subtract lines 2 and 3 from line 1.

PART II - TAX CREDITS

On March 7, 2017, the Financial Advisory Authority and Fiscal Agency of Puerto Rico ("AAFAF", for its Spanish acronym) issued Administrative Order No. OA-2017-01 ("OA-2017-01") by which it created the Disbursements and Tax Concessions Authorization Committee ("CADCC", for its Spanish acronym) to which it granted certain authorizations regarding the evaluation and granting of tax credits and delegated the responsibility of establishing limitations regarding the use and availability of the tax credits granted. Also, OA-2017-01 ordered the Secretary of Treasury ("Secretary") to carry out an inventory of the tax credits granted and to require the holders of tax credits to report the amount granted of said credits, in the manner that the Secretary establishes for said purposes. The administrative order also establishes that, any credit holder that does not show evidence issued by the Secretary of compliance with the information requirement, will not be able to claim said tax credits.

For such purposes, on April 20, 2017, the Department of the Treasury issued the Internal Revenue Informative Bulletin No. 17-08 to notify that the requirement to carry out the inventory of tax credits would be met by electronically filing Form 480.71.1 (Informative Return for Tax Credits Holders) and established that the requirement imposed by AAFAF to submit evidence of compliance with the information requirement in order to claim the tax credits, would be met by electronically filing Form 480.71.1. Therefore, in order to claim a tax credit that has been granted and available as of April 19, 2017, it must be included in Form 480.71.1 that the credit holder submitted to the Department.

For its part, on July 2, 2018, AAFAF, through Administrative Order No. OA-2018-10 ("OA-2018-10"), repealed the OA-2017-01 and left the CADCC without effect prospectively. For such purposes, Section 1051.15(b)(1) of the Code provides that for taxable years commenced after December 31, 2017, the tax credits will not be subject to the limitations set forth in the resolutions issued by the CADCC during its existence, therefore, they will be subject only to the rules of use established in the special law under which the tax credit is granted and the applicable provisions of the Code. However, credits covered under Section 1051.12(a)(4), (5) and (7) of the Code will be subject to the use limitation provided in Section 1051.13 of the Code.

However, OA-2018-10 establishes that the Secretary will continue to perform and maintain the inventory of all tax credits and maintains the requirement of the OA-2017-01 that the credit holder must show evidence issued by the Secretary of the compliance with the information requirement to be able to claim a tax credit.

You must submit with your return copy of Form 480.71.1 duly filed with the Department.

SCHEDULE C INDIVIDUAL - CREDIT FOR TAXES PAID TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES, THE UNITED STATES, ITS TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

Use this Schedule to determine the portion of the taxes paid to the foreign countries, the United States, its territories and possessions that is allowable as a credit.

To claim a credit for taxes paid to foreign countries, the United States, its territories and possessions, it is necessary that you:

- 1) Paid or accrued income tax in one or more of such jurisdictions.
- 2) Included in your Puerto Rico income tax return the taxable income from one or more of such jurisdictions.
- 3) Include with your return evidence of the tax paid (copy of cancelled or substitute checks and copy of the return filed to the IRS or any eligible jurisdiction). If the payment receipt or tax return is in a foreign language, you must submit with your return a certified translation of it.

If you received income from sources in, or paid taxes to more than one foreign country, territory or possession of the United States, you shall provide the information separately for each foreign country, territory or possession in Parts I, II and III of Schedule C Individual, indicating the name of each country, territory or possession in Columns A, B and C. If you received income from sources in, or paid taxes to more than 3 jurisdictions as well as the United States, submit additional Schedules C Individual.

An individual resident of Puerto Rico that is required to file a return and pay income taxes to the United States for income other than from sources within Puerto Rico or the United States will include in the column labeled "United States" such income from sources outside of Puerto Rico and the United States, as income from sources of that jurisdiction, as well as the losses, expenses and deductions associated with it.

PART I - DETERMINATION OF NET INCOME FROM SOURCES OUTSIDE OF PUERTO RICO

Line 1 - Enter the taxable gross income derived from sources in each of the applicable jurisdictions, itemized by the type of income listed on lines (a) through (h), and totalize them on line 1(i).

Taxable Gross Income

For purposes of Part I of Schedule C Individual, the term "taxable gross income" means gross income of the taxpayer that is subject to income tax in Puerto Rico, so it will not include any exempt items under Section 1031.02 of the Code. Include in the appropriate column all items of taxable gross income earned from sources within the pertinent jurisdiction, even if such item of income was not subject to tax in that jurisdiction. Remember that on property sales, the gross income is determined by subtracting the cost or adjusted basis of the property sold from the sales price.

Sources of Income

As a general rule, the source of income is determined as follows:

- (1) Interests and dividends - It is determined by the payer's residence or place of incorporation.
- (2) Payments for personal services - It is determined by the place where the services are rendered.
- (3) Rents and royalties - It is determined by the place where the property is located or by the place of use, or of the privilege of using patents, copyrights, trademarks, goodwill and other similar property.
- (4) Profit on the sale of inventory - If the property sold was acquired by purchase from unrelated individuals, it is determined based on where you transfer the title of the goods; to determine the source of income from the sale of inventory produced by the seller, or acquired by purchase from related persons, see Sections 1035.04 and 1035.05 of the Code.
- (5) Profit on the sale of personal property that is not inventory- It is determined based on the residence of the seller; certain exceptions apply in the case of depreciable and intangible property, as well as sales through offices or other places of business outside of Puerto Rico.
- (6) Profit on the sale of real property - It is determined by the place where such property is located.

For additional information on how to determine the source of income, see Sections 1035.01 to 1035.07 of the Code.

Line 2 - Reduce the taxable gross income reflected on line 1(i) of each column by:

- (1) Expenses directly related to the production of such income,
- (2) The losses from sources of the relevant jurisdiction, and
- (3) A proportion of other expenses or deductions not related to a category of income.

The expenses or deductions to be included on line 2(c)(i) include the personal exemptions and those for dependents, but DO NOT include losses accrued from sources in Puerto Rico, nor expenses or deductions directly related to income from sources in Puerto Rico or items excluded from income or exempt from income tax under the Code or special laws.

Include on line 2(c)(ii) the taxpayer's taxable gross income from all sources, including sources in Puerto Rico.

PART II - TAXES PAID TO THE UNITED STATES, ITS POSSESSIONS AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Indicate the date of payment and the total tax paid or accrued in each jurisdiction. If the tax was paid or accrued in a foreign currency, you must convert such amount to U.S. dollars at the date of the payment. You must keep for your records a schedule indicating the currency exchange to U.S. dollars.

In the case of the taxes paid or accrued to the United States, it shall be calculated after claiming the Foreign Tax Credit for taxes paid to foreign countries and possessions or territories of the United States, including Puerto Rico, on income from sources outside the United States included in the federal return.

PART III - DETERMINATION OF CREDIT

Line 2 - Include on line 2 the taxpayer's net income from all sources, increased by the income subject to preferential rates, net of expenses attributable to such income in accordance with Section 1033.20 of the Code.

Transfer the total credit determined on line 6(b) to Part 3, line 17 of the return or line 19, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual, as applicable.

Alternate Basic Tax

If you are subject to the alternate basic tax, you need to calculate the amount determined on this Schedule using such tax and the net income subject to alternate basic tax. In Part I, include the income from sources outside of Puerto Rico that were considered to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax. Also, you need to make the following adjustments:

- Part I, lines 1(a) through 1(i) of Schedule C Individual - replace by the corresponding items of the taxpayer's gross income that is subject to alternate basic tax; include in the corresponding column all items of gross income subject to alternate basic tax from sources in the relevant jurisdiction, even if such income item was not subject to tax in that jurisdiction.
- Part I, line 2(c)(ii) of Schedule C Individual - replace by the taxpayer's total gross income that is subject to alternate basic tax.
- Part III, line 2 of Schedule C Individual - replace by line 16 of Part I of Schedule O Individual.
- Part III, line 4 of Schedule C Individual - replace by line 4 of Part II of Schedule O Individual.

Include with your return both Schedules C Individual, calculated for the regular tax and recalculated for the alternate basic tax.

Taxpayers that choose the Optional Computation of Tax

Married taxpayers who choose the Optional Computation of Tax (Schedule CO Individual) in which either or both have paid or accrued income tax in one or more jurisdictions outside of Puerto Rico and has been included on the Puerto Rico return as taxable income from that jurisdiction, will determine the Credit for Taxes Paid to Foreign Countries, the United States, its Territories and Possessions individually. Each spouse will complete a Schedule C Individual identifying it at the top, as applicable. Enter the amount determined on Schedule CO Individual, line 19, Column B or C, as applicable. Include with your return both Schedules C Individual, for the taxpayer and spouse.

Also, if either or both spouses are subject to the alternate basic tax, it will be necessary to recalculate the credit for taxes paid to Foreign Countries, the United States, its Territories and Possessions individually as indicated above in the instructions related to the alternate basic tax. Identify each Schedule C Individual for the taxpayer and spouse, as applicable, and select the oval at the top that identifies that the Schedule was recalculated for purposes of the alternate basic tax. Include with your return both Schedules C Individual, the one calculated for regular tax and the one recalculated for alternate basic tax for each one of the spouses, as applicable.

In the case of joint custody, you should select the oval provided for this purpose.

However, a minor child will be considered to have received more than half of his/her support during a calendar year from the parent who does not have the right to custody or shared custody if:

SCHEDULE D INDIVIDUAL - CAPITAL ASSETS GAINS AND LOSSES, TOTAL DISTRIBUTIONS FROM QUALIFIED PENSION PLANS AND VARIABLE ANNUITY CONTRACTS

Use this Schedule to determine capital gains or losses on the sale or exchange of capital assets and to report total distributions from qualified pension plans and variable annuity contracts. Capital assets could be defined as a property acquired for investment.

Capital gains or losses are classified in two classes, based on the period of time you held the property:

- 1) short-term - property held for not more than one year.
- 2) long-term - property held for more than one year.

In order to determine short or long-term capital gains or losses, you must provide the description and location of the property sold, indicate if the adjusted basis was increased by the prepayment of the tax and complete the information of Columns (A) through (F) of Parts I and III, and Columns (A) through (G) of Part II.

Once you determine a gain in the sale or exchange of capital assets, you must identify the date of purchase and sale of the property. In the case of sale or exchange of long-term capital assets, the property must be presented, as applicable, in Parts II and III, according to the applicable preferential tax rate.

In case that the eligible person to claim the preferential rate of 15% or any other rate, has derived capital gains from both categories and at the same time has capital losses, to determine the net capital gain under each category, said losses will be applied against the gains in the proportion that each one of these gains bears with the total amount of said gains.

As a general rule, the adjusted basis of the property is its original cost plus the cost of the permanent improvements, less depreciation, if the property was leased during its possession.

Provisions applicable to the adjusted basis of certain capital assets:

The adjusted basis must include the increase in accumulated value of capital assets on which prepayment was made for the special tax of:

- 5% during the period between July 1 and December 31, 2006, as provided in Section 1014A of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code of 1994, as amended (1994 Code), and of
- 8% during the period between July 1, 2014 and April 30, 2015, as provided in Section 1023.21 of the Puerto Rico Internal Revenue Code of 2011, as amended (2011 Code).

You must also include in the adjusted basis the accumulated gain upon which you paid the 5% special tax during the period of July 1 to December 31, 2006 in the case of corporate stocks or partnership interests acquired upon the exercise of an option, as provided in Section 1046(e) of the 1994 Code.

Those taxpayers who benefited from the 5% or 8% special tax rate, must indicate it by selecting the oval in Parts II through IV of this Schedule. You must keep for your records Form SC 2731 with the corresponding Schedule.

Any amount or increase in value of the included capital assets generated after the election provided in Section 1014A of the 1994 Code, or Section 1023.21 of the Code, must be taxed according to the law provisions in force at the moment in which the sale, exchange or other disposal of such capital assets finally takes place.

Sale expenses include sales commissions, advertisements, legal fees, appraisal and other similar expenses. They do not include lodging expenses (i.e. hotels) nor travel expenses (i.e. airplane tickets).

Recognition of loss:

Losses generated in the sale of capital assets for which the 5% or 8% special tax was prepaid, shall be adjusted according to the effective income tax rate applicable to this kind of transaction at the moment of the sale of such assets, before the use or carryover of said loss by the individual. According to the above, such loss will be adjusted by a formula or fraction, where the numerator will be the 5% or 8% rate, as applicable, and the denominator will be the effective income tax rate at the date on which the sale of the asset took place.

For additional details, refer to Regulation No. 7188 of August 4, 2006 and Section 1023.21(e) of the Code. Also, you can obtain more information in Administrative Determination No. 14-18 and Form SC 2731.

PART VII - DETERMINATION OF THE NET LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAIN - FOR EACH TAX RATE

This Part will be used to determine the amount of net long-term capital gain that will be transferred to the corresponding columns on line 4(a) of Schedule A2 Individual. Follow the instructions provided on each line.

Transfer the total net capital gain determined on line 8, Column G of this schedule, to line 4(a), Column A of Schedule A2 Individual. You must transfer the long-term capital gain determined on line 6(a), Column B of this Schedule, to line 4(a), Column D of Schedule A2 Individual. In the case of a capital gain determined under special legislation, the amount determined on line 6(b), Columns C through E of this schedule, must be transferred to line 4(a), Columns G and H of Schedule A2 Individual, as applicable.

On the other hand, if the net capital gain includes a net short-term capital gain, it will be part of the calculation of the regular tax to be determined in Column A of Schedule A2 Individual. This is due to the fact that short-term capital gains are taxable at the regular tax rates. For additional details on the taxation of short-term capital gains, see instructions for line 4(a) of Schedule A2 Individual.

SCHEDULE D1 INDIVIDUAL - SALE OR EXCHANGE OF PRINCIPAL RESIDENCE

If you sold or exchanged your principal residence during the year, you must complete this Schedule.

Under Act 216-2011, if you sold your principal residence on or after November 1, 2011, the total net long-term capital gain is exempt from income tax, including the alternate basic tax.

For these purposes, it is considered “principal residence” a housing unit that has been occupied continuously by the seller and his/her family for the last 2 years preceding the sale.

It is a requirement that you complete this Schedule even if the gain is exempt.

PART I - COMPUTATION OF GAIN

Line 1 - Enter the date of sale of the residence. This date appears on the Sale and Purchase Deed.

Line 2 – If you answered “Yes”, complete the rest of the Schedule to determine the total net gain that is exempt from the payment of taxes. If you answered “No”, go to Schedule D Individual, Part I or II, as applicable.

Line 3 - If you used funds from your Individual Retirement Account (IRA) to purchase your principal residence, these funds are taxable when the residence is sold. Select the corresponding oval to indicate whether these funds belong to the taxpayer or spouse and enter the amount withdrawn from the IRA to purchase the residence. Transfer to Schedule F Individual, Part I.

Line 4 - Enter the selling price of the residence, without including personal property items. Generally, the sale price includes the cash received from the sale plus the mortgages assumed by the purchaser.

Line 5 - Enter the expenses incurred in order to sell the residence. These expenses include sales commissions, advertising, legal, appraisal and other expenses. Lodging expenses (i.e. hotels) nor travel expenses (i.e. airplane tickets) are not considered selling expenses. Include on this line fixing-up expenses that you paid in order to sell the residence.

Fixing-up expenses include repair, maintenance, painting and cleaning expenses paid in order to facilitate the sale of the property. However, to qualify, the expenses must be:

- for work performed during the 90 day period ended on the date in which the sales contract of the old residence took place;
- paid no later than 30 days after the date of sale of the residence.

The fixing-up expenses do not include amounts paid for permanent improvements. To claim said expenses, see instructions for line 7.

Line 7 - Enter the adjusted basis of the residence sold. The adjusted basis is the original cost of the residence and its permanent improvements, less the accumulated depreciation, if the property was used to produce income during its possession.

Also, the adjusted basis of the property will include the increase in accumulated value of such property for which the 5% special tax rate was prepaid during the period of July 1, 2006 to December 31, 2006, as provided in Section 1014A of the 1994 Code, and of 8% during the period from July 1, 2014 to April 30, 2015 in accordance with Section 1023.21 of the 2011 Code. If you made a prepayment during the indicated periods, select the corresponding oval. You must keep copy of Form SC 2731 with the corresponding Schedule for a period not shorter than 6 years.

Line 8 - Enter the gain realized on the sale. If the gain was realized on the sale of a principal residence under the provisions of Act 216-2011, the same is exempt from the payment of income tax. Transfer this amount to Schedule IE Individual, Part II, line 10.

It is important to point out that if your principal residence does not comply with the definition provided by Act 216-2011 but you are interested to benefit from the provisions of Sections 1034.04(m) and 1031.02(a)(16) of the Code related to the gain deferral and the once in a life exemption for taxpayers age 60 or older, respectively, refer to Schedule D3 Individual available in our webpage under the "Schedules" topic.

SCHEDULE E - DEPRECIATION

This Schedule must be completed by those taxpayers who are engaged in an industry or business, or who derived income from professions, commissions, farming and rent.

The same will be used to inform each of the properties for which you claim depreciation. There are spaces for current, flexible and accelerated depreciation; amortization, automobiles and vehicles under financial leases.

On this schedule you must provide the following information:

- classification of the property;
- date acquired;
- allowable cost or basis;
- depreciation claimed in previous years;
- estimated useful life to determine the depreciation; and
- depreciation claimed in the current year.

For properties acquired from January 1, 2010, it is allowed to use the provisions of the Federal Internal Revenue Code and its Regulation in those cases in which Section 1033.07 or 1040.12 of the Code does not establish depreciation periods for certain tangible property.

Line (b) - Flexible Depreciation

In order to be entitled to claim flexible depreciation in lieu of current depreciation, the Code requires you to make an option through a sworn statement to be filed no later than 30 days after the end of the taxable year. Said option may be exercised only for property acquired by the taxpayer prior to June 30, 1995.

Line (c) - Accelerated Depreciation

The Code grants a deduction for accelerated depreciation in lieu of current depreciation. In order to be entitled to this deduction, the taxpayer is required to make an election with his/her return to use the accelerated depreciation method. Said election may be exercised only for property acquired by the taxpayer during taxable years commenced after June 30, 1995. The aforesaid election, once made, is irrevocable.

Refer to the Code and its regulations to determine who qualifies for the deduction under the flexible and accelerated depreciation methods and the requirements that must be met to be able to enjoy this deduction.

Line (e) - Automobiles

For property that is an automobile it is allowed a deduction for depreciation up to $6,000 annually per automobile, up to a maximum of $30,000 for the automobile's useful life.

If the taxpayer is a seller, the amount of the depreciation deduction can not exceed $10,000 annually per automobile, up to a maximum of $30,000 for the automobile's useful life.

If the automobile is used by the taxpayer in his/her trade or business or for the production of income and is also used for personal purposes, the amount of this deduction will be reduced by the amount of its personal use.

In the case of cars under operating leases, the amount of rent paid during the taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction for depreciation up to a maximum of $6,000 annually per automobile or $10,000, if the taxpayer is a seller. Include on this line, the lease rental payments for automobiles under operating leases up to the limits indicated above. Do not include them as a deduction for rent, interests, costs of motor vehicles or any other item other than depreciation on Schedules K, L, M or N Individual.

Line (f) - Vehicles under financial leases

In the case of leased automobiles that are essentially equivalent to a purchase, instead of current depreciation, it is allowed a deduction for the use of the automobile for the amount paid during the taxable year up to $6,000 annually per automobile, up to a maximum of $30,000 for the automobile's useful life. See Section 1033.07(a)(3)(D) of the Code for the definition of a lease that is essentially equivalent to a purchase.

If the taxpayer is a seller, it will be allowed as a deduction the amount paid for the lease of the automobile during the taxable year for an amount not exceeding $10,000 annually per automobile, up to a maximum of $30,000 for the automobile's useful life.

Enter on this line the amount of lease payments that are substantially equivalent to a purchase, subject to the limitations previously indicated. Do not include as part of the payments the interest portion. Indicate also, the amount of vehicles for which you made lease payments.

You must provide with your return the information required of Form 480.7D.

SCHEDULE G INDIVIDUAL - SALE OR EXCHANGE OF ALL TRADE OR BUSINESS ASSETS OF A SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP BUSINESS

Every individual who sells, exchanges or disposes all the assets used in his/her sole proprietorship business, may defer the gain if:

- 1) Reinvests the product of the sale or exchange in another sole proprietorship business in Puerto Rico.

- 2) Makes the reinvestment within 12 months from the date of the sale or exchange of the first business.

This gain deferment will not apply to businesses conducted by corporations or partnerships, or other type of organizations.

Definitions:

Sole proprietorship business - Any business engaged in manufacture, agriculture, construction, sale and purchase of consumer's goods or to render services, which are totally owned by a natural person.

Assets used in your sole proprietorship business – It includes land, real and personal property subject to the concession of depreciation, property included on the taxpayer's inventory in existence at the end of the taxable year, property owned for the sale during the ordinary course of industry or business, sales or payable promissory notes and other intangible property. The term does not include property for personal use, property owned as investment and property that is not used in your sole proprietorship business.

PART I - QUESTIONNAIRE

You must indicate on line 1 if in previous years you have claimed the benefit of postponing the gain of a sole proprietorship business, by selecting of the corresponding oval. In case you have answered "Yes", you must inform in the spaces indicated the taxable year in which you commenced to postpone the gain and the amount claimed.

The adjusted basis to be informed on line 2 will be equal to the amount determined on Schedule G Individual, Part III, line 21 for the taxable year in which you elected to benefit from the gain postponement.

This Schedule must include the aforesaid information and will be submitted with your return for all subsequent years in which you elected to benefit from the postponement of the gain from a sole proprietorship business.

PART II - COMPUTATION OF GAIN

Line 7 - You must inform those expenses incurred that made possible the sale of your first sole proprietorship business. The following examples are considered these type of expenses: advertisements, legal fees, commissions, etc.

Line 9 - The adjusted basis of your first sole proprietorship business will be its cost, increased by the permanent improvements made to the business and reduced by the depreciation expense claimed over the business assets used.

However, the adjusted basis of the property must be increased by those taxpayers that during the periods comprised between July 1 and December 31, 2006 and/or between July 1, 2014 and April 30, 2015 prepaid the 5% and/or 8% special tax, respectively, on the increase in accumulated value of capital assets. In this case, the adjusted basis of the property will include the increase in accumulated value upon which the special tax was paid. To indicate this adjustment to the basis, select the corresponding oval.

Line 10 – Enter the gain realized on the sale. If the gain was realized on the sale of a qualified property under the provisions of Act 132-2010 or Act 216-2011, the same is 50% exempt from the payment of income tax. For the definition of qualified property refer to the instructions of Schedule D Individual.

Line 12 - If you sold your first sole proprietorship business and have the intention of purchasing another new sole proprietorship business, the Code provides you the benefit to postpone the realized gain as long as you comply with the requirements previously mentioned. Do not complete the rest of the Schedule and submit it with your return. You must fill out another Schedule G Individual for next year to inform the postponed gain and the adjusted basis of the new sole proprietorship business.

PART III - ADJUSTED SALES PRICE, TAXABLE GAIN AND ADJUSTED BASIS OF NEW SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP BUSINESS

Line 13 - Enter on this line the total amount realized on the sale of your first sole proprietorship business as determined on line 10. Indicate if it is a short-term or long-term gain, by selecting the corresponding oval.

If this line is zero, then there is no gain to be recognized for this taxable year. In this case, do not complete the rest of the form and include the same with the return.

If this line is more than zero and you acquired a new sole proprietorship business, continue with the rest of the form in order to determine if any part of this realized gain will be taxed in this taxable year. This occurs when the assets sales price of your first sole proprietorship business exceeds the purchase cost of the new sole proprietorship business.

On the other hand, if this line is more than zero and you do not have the intention of buying another business during the replacement period provided by the Code, all realized gain, as determined on line 10 of this schedule, will be recognized and taxed in this taxable year. However, if you select the oval on line 10 indicating "Qualified property: 1 Yes", transfer to Schedule D Individual, as applicable, the 50% of the amount shown on this line.

Line 14 - To determine which part of the realized gain is taxable, the sale price of the first sole proprietorship business will include only the amount of any mortgage, fiduciary cession for the benefit of creditors (trust deed), or any other debt to which is subject such property owned by the purchaser. In this case, the commissions and other selling expenses paid or incurred on the sale of the first sole proprietorship business will not be deducted nor taken into consideration while determining the sale price.

Line 15(b) - The cost of the new sole proprietorship business will be its cost plus those debts to which the property is subject (including mortgages) as of the date of the purchase, and the nominal value of the taxpayer's debts that are part of the consideration for the purchase.

Line 19 - Enter the smaller of line 13 or 18. If the result is zero or less, there will be no taxable gain for this taxable year.

If the amount is more than zero, this will be the taxable gain for this taxable year. This occurs when the total amount reinvested in the new sole proprietorship business is less than the sale price of the first sole proprietorship business. If you selected the oval on line 10 indicating "Qualified property: 1 Yes", transfer to Schedule D Individual, as applicable, the 50% of the amount shown on this line.

Line 21 - This will be the adjusted basis of the new sole proprietorship business, which you must inform in all the subsequent taxable years since you elected the benefit of postponing the gain. The same will be informed on Schedule G Individual, Part I, line 2 of the following year of said election.

This provision has the effect of postponing the gain not recognized on the sale of the first sole proprietorship business until a sale is made of all the assets of the new sole proprietorship business.

This Schedule must be completed if you received income from annuities or pensions from qualified pension plans under Section 1081.01 of the Code or granted by the Government of Puerto Rico, the United States and instrumentalities or political subdivisions of both governments. If you receive benefits from the Social Security Administration, do not complete this Schedule because such benefits are not taxable in Puerto Rico. On the other hand, if you received income in periodic payments from the purchase of a fixed or variable annuity through a financial or insurance institution, report it on this schedule. Also, include those amounts over which you prepaid the 5% special tax under Sections 1081.01(b)(9) of the Code or Section 1012D of the 1994 Code and the 8% under Section 1023.21 of the Code.

This deduction only applies if the pension received is derived from a qualified pension plan under Section 1081.01 of the Code or from the retirement systems subsidized by the Government of Puerto Rico, the United States and instrumentalities or political subdivisions of both governments.

For these purposes, Form 480.7C must indicate the following information:

- that it is a governmental or private qualified plan,
- that no amount must be reflected in Boxes 6 through 15, and
- that the distribution code in Box 23 must be one of the following: A, C or D.

If the taxpayer receives more than one pension, the exemption will apply for each pension separately.

If the total amount received during the year exceeds $11,000 or $15,000, as applicable, the excess over such amount will be subject to tax. While you are recovering the cost of the annuity or pension, you will be taxed up to 3% of such cost.

If you claim the exempt amount of $15,000, you must keep for your records a copy of your birth or baptism certificate as evidence to support your right to claim the exemption. Make sure to write your date of birth on page 1 of the tax return.

This constitutes the portion of the entity's net income attributable to the services provided by the partner or shareholder and not paid as wages or compensation for services. Only this amount can be used to determine the amount of contribution to a qualified plan for the benefit of an individual ("Keogh"). Therefore, do not consider the total net income generated by the partnership, special partnership or corporation of individuals when making such calculation.

Line 7 – Indicate on this line the total net operating losses from previous years, as determined in Column D of Schedule V Individual. Include this schedule with your return.

Schedule N Individual

If the rental income is derived from the lease of a residential New Construction Property or Qualified Property, said income is totally exempt under the provisions of Act 132-2010, as amended. This exemption applies from January 1, 2011 onwards until December 31, 2020, regardless of the date the contract is signed. You must include the income in the return, select the oval corresponding to Act 132-2010 on the top part of the Schedule and provide a detail of the physical location of the property. This exempt net income must be transferred to Schedule IE Individual, Part II, line 21.

For more details, see Act 132-2010 and the corresponding regulations.

Line 2 - Refer to the instructions of line 4, Part II of Schedule K Individual.

Line 6 – Indicate on this line the total net operating losses from previous years, as determined in Column D of Schedule V Individual (for purposes of a loss from rental business, the total in Column D must be equal to Column A less Column B). Include Schedule V Individual with your return.

Line 8 - If you derived income from an industry or business covered by a tax exemption decree granted under any tax incentives act, indicate the tax exemption percent (%) granted in you decree. Multiply the amount on line 7 by the corresponding exemption percent granted, and enter the result on this line.

Line 9 - If you derived a taxable profit on the operation of the rental business, transfer this amount to page 2, Part 1, line 2L of the return or line 3L, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual, as applicable. If operations resulted in a loss, see the additional details on the treatment of losses of a trade or business in the INSTRUCTIONS TO COMPLETE THE RETURN: Part 1, line 2 - Other Income (or Losses), under the previously discussed topic regarding the net operating losses from previous years and Schedule V Individual.

If the income is derived from a business that has been granted a tax exemption decree under the provisions of Act 135-1997

(rate of 10%, 7%, 4%, 2% or other), or any other incentives act which profit is subject to a preferential rate, also transfer the total gain to the corresponding Column of line 4(i) of Schedule A2 Individual, according to the applicable tax rate.

Make sure that you indicated in Part I of this Schedule, the applicable incentives act and the case or decree number which entitles you to the preferential rate.

PART III - OPERATING EXPENSES AND OTHER COSTS

It is allowed a reasonable deduction for those ordinary and necessary expenses incurred for the production of income related to your business. On the other hand, it will not be allowed to claim expenses attributable to exempt income or otherwise so excluded from the gross income.

Salaries, Commissions and Allowances to Employees

The salaries deduction will be verified by an electronic system in order to determine if the amounts claimed agree with the Withholding Statements and the forms that must be filed by the employers.

Enter on line 1 of Part III the total payments of salaries, commissions and employee bonuses.

Payroll Expenses

Expenses paid to employees of the industry or business as fringe benefits, such as payments made to cover health insurance premiums, employer contributions to retirement plans and qualified benefits plans for employees (cafeteria plans), are considered as admissible deductions for the determination of the net income subject to alternate basic tax, for being part of the compensation for such employees.

Medical or Hospitalization Insurance

Every individual engaged in a trade or business as self employed, whose gross income does not exceed $500,000, can deduct as an industry or business expense, the cost of health insurance paid for himself/herself and his/her family, provided that such health insurance is extended to all employees, if any. In the case of individuals who choose this benefit, they cannot include the cost paid for health insurance as a deduction for medical expenses.

Contributions to Qualified Pension Plans

The Code allows a deduction for contributions to qualified pension plans under Section 1081.01 of the Code. To claim the deduction for contributions made to any of said plans, it will be necessary to keep for your records the information required by the Regulations under the Code. Also, you must complete and submit with the return Form AS 6042.1 (Deduction for Contributions to Qualified Retirement Plans and Tax on Certain Contributions).

Contributions made to a qualified plan or plans for the benefit of an individual, commonly known as "Keogh Plans", cannot exceed 25% (15% if a profit sharing plan) of your earned income without considering said deduction or $55,000, whichever is smaller, as provided in Tax Policy Circular Letter No. 17-02 of December 15, 2017. Since this deduction and the amount of net profits from sole proprietorship income depend on each other, it is required to adjust the amount of said net profits. This adjustment can be determined indirectly through the reduction in the percentage of contributions made, attributable to said individual. The contribution's adjusted percentage and the deduction for contributions can be determined as follows:

(A) Percentage of contributions according to the plan	%
(B) Percentage in (A), reflected in decimal, plus 1	1. _
(C) Adjusted percentage (divide (A) by (B))	%
(D) Net gains (without adjustment)	$
(E) Maximum deduction (multiply (D) by (C))	$

Professional Services

This expense shall be allowed as a deduction for purposes of determining the net income subject to alternate basic tax, as long as it is duly reported in the corresponding Informative Returns and the applicable withholding required by the Code has been made.

Lease, Rent and Royalties Paid

Among the deductions allowed there are those related to rent and other payments required as a condition to continue using or owning property that the taxpayer has not acquired, is not acquiring the title or in which does not have share. Payments of rents and royalties include, in addition to the ones made for the use of tangible real or personal property, payments made for intangible property, such as royalties, patents, franchises or licenses, when they are made as a condition to continue using the intangible property in the industry or business. To deduct such expenses for purposes of determining the net income subject to alternate basic tax, they have to be duly reported in the corresponding Informative Return and the corresponding withholding required by the Code has been made.

Insurances

Premiums paid when the insurance is an essential element for the service rendered or the industry, such as mal practice insurance and insurance for inventory or other real or personal property used in the industry or business, will be allowed as a deduction to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax.

Automobile and Other Motor Vehicle Expenses

Taxpayers engaged in trade or business in Puerto Rico and who are subject to the provisions of Section 1033.07(a)(3)(g) of the Code, may elect to claim on line 12 of Schedules K, L and M Individual, or line 11 of Schedule N Individual, as applicable, the deduction for the expenses incurred or paid for the use and maintenance of an automobile based in one of the following alternatives:

- 1) the expense based on a standard mileage rate of sixty cents ($0.60) per each mile used by the taxpayer to carry out the industry or business or for the production of income; or
- 2) the actual expenses for the use and maintenance of an automobile incurred by the taxpayer in his/her industry or business or for the production of income, including those duly documented by the employees under a reimbursement plan established by their employer.

However, once you choose one of the alternatives, the taxpayer will be required to use the same during the entire taxable period.

Administrative Determination No. 15-01 of January 9, 2015 (AD 15-01), repealed several articles of Regulation No. 8297 of December 18, 2012, related to the requirements to claim the deduction for expenses incurred or paid for the use and maintenance of automobile. For additional details, see AD 15-01.

The cost of automobile use and maintenance includes repairs, insurance, gasoline, oil and filter changes, cleaning, tires, annual license fees and other costs of a similar nature.

This expense does not include depreciation, rental payments on ordinary leases or financial leases which are claimed on line 11 of Schedules K, L and M Individual or on line 10 of Schedule N Individual, by including Schedule E. Also, do not include expenses related to the use of tolls or parking.

For these purposes, the term “automobile” include any motor vehicle manufactured to transit in public roads and designed for transporting people, but does not include the following:

- ↪ those used directly in the business of transporting passengers or property for which compensation or payment is made, such as limousines, taxis and public vehicles;
- ↪ funeral cars, flower carriages, buses, ambulances, motorcycles, trucks, vans and any other similar vehicle used primarily to transport cargo; and
- ↪ cars rented or held for rental by persons regularly engaged in the business of car leasing.

If you incurred expenses for vehicles which are not considered automobiles according to the above definition, you should claim them on line 13 of Schedules K, L and M Individual or on line 12 of Schedule N Individual.

Special contribution for professional and advisory services under Act 48-2013

Every individual who has signed a contract of professional, advisory, advertising, training or orientation services with an agency, dependency or instrumentality of the Government of Puerto Rico, public corporation, the Legislative Branch, the Office of the Comptroller, the Office of the Ombudsman and the Judicial Branch, will be subject to a withholding of a Special Contribution under Act 48-2013, as amended. This amount is equivalent to one point five (1.5%) of the total amount of the contract.

This contribution will be considered as an ordinary and necessary expense in Schedule M Individual, for which it is deductible to the extent that it is reported in a Form 480.6A or 480.6B.

For additional information on the scope of this withholding, you may refer to the Administrative Determination No. 13-14 of August 28, 2013 and to the Circular Letters issued by Central Accounting Area of the Department for such purposes.

Federal Self-Employment Tax

Every individual engaged in a trade or business, is entitled to deduct from the gross income 50% of the federal self employment tax paid to the Internal Revenue Service on the income reported for the same taxable year. This deduction will be claimed on line 14, Part III of Schedules K and L Individual; on line 15, Part III of Schedule M Individual; and on line 13, Part III of Schedule N Individual.

Direct Essential Costs

There shall be allowed as a deduction to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax, any direct essential cost that constitutes an expense for the service rendered or the industry or business only if it is an essential cost of such service or industry. Among these expense items are:

1. Publishing and promotional expenses incurred by businesses engaged in the sale of consumption goods or services, including wholesale or retail stores or storages, restaurants and other similar businesses;
2. Interests on debts incurred for the acquisition of inventory or other real or personal property used in the industry or business;
3. In the case of taxpayers under the accrual method, bad debts write-off from the sale of goods or services by the industry or business;
4. Expenses for radio, newspaper or television advertising made by a publishing agency, which are part of the cost for the service rendered; and
5. Payments made by travel agencies to airlines, hotels, cruises and other providers of the industry as part of the services provided by such agency.

It is important to point out that Administrative Determination No. 12-08 of March 30, 2012 and Regulation No. 8329 of January 9, 2013, provides that the following expenses are not considered direct essential costs under any circumstance:

1. travel, meal and entertainment expenses;
2. representation or public relations expenses; and
3. lobbying expenses.

The deduction for direct essential costs shall be claimed on line 15, Part III of Schedules K and L Individual; on line 16, Part III Schedule M Individual; or on line 14, Part III of Schedule N Individual. The taxpayer must include with the return Schedule W Individual detailing the nature and amount of the items claimed as a deduction for direct essential costs.

Meal and Entertainment Expenses

It may be deducted up to 50% of the total amount for meal and entertainment expenses incurred or paid during the year. However, said deduction cannot exceed 25% of the gross income.

Other Expenses

Those expense items for which there are no specific spaces provided in Part III, will be totalized and entered as Other Expenses. It is important that you keep for your records a schedule detailing such expenses.

The Code provides a $400 deduction for employers from private industries for each severely disabled person that is employed for at least 20 hours per week for nine months during the taxable year. This deduction will be allowed for up to five severely disabled persons employed. The regulations in force applicable from the Vocational Rehabilitation Program of the Department of the Family, will be used for the definition of the term "severely disabled person". You must keep for your records:

- 1) a certification indicating that the person for which the deduction is claimed, has been an employee for at least nine months of the taxable year in which the deduction is claimed, and
- 2) a certification issued by the Secretary of the Department of the Family, indicating that the individual for which the deduction is claimed is a severely disabled person, in accordance to the regulations and procedures of said Department.

The contributions made by an employer to an Educational Contribution Account, for a beneficiary designated by an employee, are deductible as part of the operating expenses of the industry or business, as long as the requirements established by law are met.

Every employer may claim annually as an operating expense of the industry or business, an amount equal to a month of salary for each employee to whom you have granted the right to nurse their babies or express their breast milk during one hour within each full time working day that can be divided in two periods of 30 minutes or three periods of 20 minutes. In the case of companies considered as small businesses by the Federal Small Business Administration, the period will be one half hour of each full time working day, that can be divided in two periods of 15 minutes.

Every industry or business that meets the requirements established in Act 212-2002, that creates new employments as part of a urban center rehabilitation process, will be entitled to a special additional deduction equivalent to 5% of the minimum salary applicable to each new employment created. Also, the transfer of your business with a minimum of 5 employees to a urban center will entitle you to an additional deduction equivalent to 15% of the payroll expenses related to the employees transferred during the year in which the business was transferred. The limit for this deduction will be 50% of the net income according to the Code, adjusted by the special deductions provided by Act 212-2002, without considering this deduction.

These deductions will be available for a term of 5 years from the taxable year in which the taxpayer applies for these benefits. You must keep for your records a certification issued by the Territorial Ordinance Office or from the City Planning Director indicating the name, social security number and minimum salary for each new employment created; or name and account number of the transferred business, its previous location, name and social security number of the transferred employees, and the amount of payroll related to said employees. For both deductions you must also specify the taxable year in which you applied for these benefits and their due dates. Also, the accelerated depreciation of the construction cost is allowed.

For details of these special deductions you must refer to Act 212-2002 and the corresponding regulation.

The deduction for other expenses may be claimed on line 25, Part III of Schedules K and L Individual; on line 26, Part III of Schedule M Individual; or on line 21, Part III of Schedule N Individual. The taxpayer must include with the return Schedule W Individual detailing the nature and amount of the items claimed as a deduction for other expenses.

SCHEDULE O INDIVIDUAL - ALTERNATE BASIC TAX

Complete this Schedule if the net income subject to alternate basic tax is $150,000 or more.

An alternate basic tax will be assessed, determined in accordance to the following table and reduced by the alternate basic credit for taxes paid to foreign countries, when the same is more than the regular tax:

Net Income Subject to Alternate Basic Tax:	Tax rate:
From $150,000 to $200,000	10%
Over $200,000, but not over $300,000	15%
Over $300,000	24%

In the case of married persons filing separate returns or that choose the optional computation of tax, levels of net income subject to alternate basic tax shall be determined separately as an individual taxpayer.

For more details, refer to Regulation No. 8329 of January 9, 2013.

PART I – DETERMINATION OF NET INCOME SUBJECT TO ALTERNATE BASIC TAX

Lines 2 through 5 - To determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax there are only certain deductions allowed related to the industry or business which are claimed on Schedules K, L, M and N Individual. These deductions are previously identified in those Schedules. Therefore, in these lines it is necessary to add the non-allowable deductions to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax. Transfer from the applicable Schedules the line identified. See Section 1021.02(a)(2)(A)(iii) of the Code and the corresponding regulation.

Line 6 - Enter on this line the total amount of deductions allowed by special acts that have not been considered in the adjustment of lines 2 through 5.

Line 7 - For purposes of the alternate basic tax for taxable years 2009 and 2010, it was required that a partner's share in the profit or loss from a special partnership engaged in the edification, installation and construction of structures that cover a period in excess of one year, will be determined by the accounting method known as "percentage of completion method". Therefore, if for those taxable years any other accounting method was used, the partner's share in the profit or loss from the special partnership had to be recalculated under the percentage of completion method and the difference to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax had to be included on this line.

This adjustment is no longer required under the Code. Nevertheless, for those taxpayers who have made this adjustment in 2009 and/or 2010, this line is provided to avoid the duplication of the income that was already recognized in those taxable years for purposes of the alternate basic tax, at the moment in which the income is recognized by the special partnership according to the accounting method that was not the percentage of completion.

Lines 8 and 9 - Transfer to these lines the distributable share in the adjustments for purposes of the alternate basic tax of pass-through entities, according to the identified line of Forms 480.60 EC and 480.60 F.

Line 10 - Enter the total amount of exclusions and exemptions that are not derived from Subtitle A of the Code, even if they are granted by special laws, except those provided by:

- ☞ Act 225-1995, as amended, known as the Puerto Rico Agricultural Incentives Act;
- ☞ Act 73-2008, as amended, known as the Economic Incentives for the Development of Puerto Rico Act or any other previous or successor act of a similar nature;
- ☞ Act 83-2010, known as the Puerto Rico Green Energy Incentives Act or any other previous or successor act of a similar nature; or
- ☞ Act 78-1993, as amended, known as the Puerto Rico Tourism Development Act of 1993, or any successor act, including the Puerto Rico Tourism Development Act of 2010.

To determine the exclusions and exemptions to the alternate basic tax (Column 2) on Schedule IE Individual, do not consider the exempt or excluded income provided by the above acts.

Transfer to this line the amount from line 2 of Part III of Schedule IE Individual.

Line 11 - Enter on this line those items considered to determine the adjusted gross income in the return that for the provisions of a special act are not considered to determine the alternate basic tax.

Provide a breakdown with the amount, concept of the adjustment and the legislation that provides for such item not to be subject to the payment of alternate basic tax.

Line 15 - The same deductions admitted under Sections 1033.15 and 1033.16 of the Code and the allowances for personal exemption and exemption for dependents provided by Section 1033.18 of the Code are allowed as reductions to determine the net income subject to alternate basic tax. Transfer from Part 2, line 10 of the return or from line 12 of Schedule CO Individual, according to the corresponding column, the total applicable deductions to individuals, personal exemption and exemption for dependents.

PART II - ALTERNATE BASIC TAX COMPUTATION

Line 5 - To determine the alternate basic tax, you may claim the credit for taxes paid to the United States, its possessions and foreign countries with certain adjustments. Therefore, to determine the credit to be claimed on this line it is necessary to recalculate the credit determined on Schedule C Individual for the regular tax (line 3 of Part II of this Schedule) substituting the tax determined by the alternate basic tax and the net income by the net income subject to alternate basic tax.

For details, see the instructions for Schedule C Individual. It is necessary to identify Schedule C Individual as "computed for the alternate basic tax" on the upper part and that you submit both Schedules C Individual with your return.

PART III - COMPUTATION OF THE CREDIT FOR ALTERNATE BASIC TAX

Use this part to determine the amount of the credit for alternate basic tax paid in excess over the regular tax, not used in previous taxable years. In order to claim this credit, the sum of the regular tax and the gradual adjustment of the current taxable year must be more than the alternate basic tax for the same year. Follow the instructions that are provided on each line.

The amount of credit for alternate basic tax of previous taxable years is equivalent to the sum of the excess of alternate basic tax over the regular tax determined annually for each of the taxable years beginning on December 31, 2008 and ending before January 1, 2014, as determined in Part IV of this Schedule, reduced by the amount of alternate basic tax credits previously claimed.

If you paid taxes to the United States, its possessions or any foreign country, the regular tax and the alternate basic tax shall be reduced by the amount applicable of the credit for tax paid to those places.

The alternate basic tax credit cannot be more than 25% of the excess of the net regular tax over the net alternate basic tax determined for the current year. Any balance of the credit not claimed may be carried over to subsequent years until totally used.

PART IV – DETERMINATION OF THE ALTERNATE BASIC TAX PAID IN PREVIOUS YEARS NOT CLAIMED AS CREDIT

Complete this Part and determine the amount of carryover of alternate basic tax paid in previous years and not claimed as credit that is available for the taxable year. You must include the alternate basic tax paid in excess of the regular tax, the amount previously used as credit and the amount available. This amount will be used for the computation of the alternate basic tax.

For additional details, refer to Section 1021.02(a)(6) of the Code and Regulation No. 7887 of July 7, 2010.

SCHEDULE P INDIVIDUAL - GRADUAL ADJUSTMENT

In the case of taxpayers whose net taxable income is over $500,000, the Code provides for a gradual adjustment to the tax rates lower than 33% and the personal exemption and exemption for dependents. If married filing separately or if you choose the optional computation of tax in the case of married persons living together and filing a joint return, this limit is determined separately as if it were an individual taxpayer.

If the net taxable income in Part 2, line 13 of the return, line 15, Column B or C of Schedule CO Individual or line 11, Column A of Schedule A2 Individual is over $500,000, you will be subject to this adjustment.

SCHEDULE R INDIVIDUAL - PARTNERSHIPS, SPECIAL PARTNERSHIPS AND CORPORATIONS OF INDIVIDUALS

Complete Schedule R Individual, if you are a partner of one or more partnerships or special partnerships or a shareholder of one or more corporations of individuals. If you have share in more than three partnerships and special partnerships or in more than three corporations of individuals, you must also complete and submit with the return the amount of Schedules R1 Individual that are necessary.

If you choose the optional computation of tax in the case of married persons living together and filing a joint return, you must complete and include with your return a Schedule R Individual for each spouse that has share in any of these entities. Select the oval that identifies the taxpayer or his/her spouse, respectively.

Part I of Schedule R Individual is used every year to determine the taxpayer's adjusted basis in each partnership or special partnership. Also, you must indicate the type of form from which the information to be included in this schedule comes (Form 480.60 EC or K-1), type of taxable year (calendar or fiscal), name and employer identification number of the entity, and the control and electronic filing confirmation number of Form 480.60 EC received, as applicable.

Part II of this Schedule is used to determine the taxpayer distributable share on the net profit or loss of one or more partnerships or special partnerships, including those losses carried over from previous years.

Part III of this Schedule is used every year to determine the taxpayer's adjusted basis in each corporation of individuals. Also, you must indicate the type of taxable year (calendar or fiscal), the name and employer identification number of the entity, and the control and electronic filing confirmation number of Form 480.60 EC received.

Part IV of this Schedule is used to determine the taxpayer distributable share on the net profit or loss of one or more corporations of individuals, including those losses carried over from previous years.

Part V provides to determine the aggregated net loss from partnerships, special partnerships and corporations of individuals that can be applied to the aggregated net income of these pass-through entities. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2014, said losses cannot exceed 80% of the distributable share in the aggregated net income of other partnerships, special partnerships or corporations of individuals.

You must complete this Schedule annually, irrespective of the fact that the partnership, special partnership or corporation of individuals have derived gains or losses.

PART I - ADJUSTED BASIS DETERMINATION OF A PARTNER IN ONE OR MORE SPECIAL PARTNERSHIPS OR PARTNERSHIPS

Line 1 - Enter the amount from Part I, line 4 of previous year Schedule R Individual.

The basis of a partner's share from a partnership or special partnership will be the amount of cash or the adjusted basis of any property that is not considered cash, contributed to said partnership.

This basis will be adjusted by the following entries or transactions made during the taxable year of the determination and others included on previous year income tax return.

Line 2 - Basis increase

- (a) Enter the partner's distributable share in the pass-through entity's income and profits for the current year. This amount must be the same as the one shown on line 7, Part II of this schedule.
- (b) Enter the capital contributions made by the partner to the pass-through entity during the current year, as shown in column (a), Part II of Form 480.60 EC.
- (c) Enter the partner's distributable share in the pass-through entity's gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets for the current year.
- (d) Enter the partner's distributable share in the pass-through entity's exempt income for the current year.

- (f) Enter other income or profits like for example, the distributable share in the dividends and interests received by the partnership or special partnership.

Line 3 - Basis decrease

- (a) Enter the distributable share in the loss attributable to the partner on the previous year. This amount shall be the same as line 4, Part V of Schedule R Individual of taxable year 2017. If a partner has share in losses from more than one special partnership or partnership, the total allowable loss balance, as determined in the previous taxable year, will be attributed proportionally to the loss of each one of the partnerships. The allocation will be made using as a factor the adjusted basis of the partner's share in each one of the partnerships at the close of the previous taxable year.
- (b) Enter the distributable share in the partnership or special partnership's capital losses.
- (c) Enter the distributions made to the partner by the partnership or special partnership, whether in cash or in property, including tax exempt income.

Line 4 - The amount of this line cannot be less than zero. If the amount on this line is less than zero, enter zero and recognize a gain for the amount of the adjusted basis that is less than zero.

PART II - DETERMINATION OF NET INCOME OR LOSS IN ONE OR MORE SPECIAL PARTNERSHIPS OR PARTNERSHIPS

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2010, if the special partnership or partnership derived losses, you may not claim them as a deduction against other income other than income derived from other special partnerships, partnerships or corporation of individuals. Said loss will be limited to the adjusted basis of the partner's share in the partnership at the end of the taxable year in which the loss is claimed.

The adjusted basis limitation will be determined for each one of the special partnerships or partnerships in which the partner invests.

Line 5(a) - Enter the distributable share in the loss of the special partnership or partnership attributable to the partner in accordance to the share percentage. This amount is informed to the partner on Form 480.60 EC.

Line 5(b) - Enter the carryover losses which were not claimed in previous years due to the limitation. This amount must be the same as the one shown on line 6, Part V of Schedule R Individual included on the income tax return of taxable year 2017. If a partner owns shares in losses from more than one special partnership or partnership, the balance subject to the loss carryover, as determined on the previous taxable year, will be proportionally attributed to the loss of each one of the partnerships. Said attribution will be done by using as factor the adjusted basis of the partner's share in each one of the partnerships at the end of the previous taxable year.

Line 6 - Enter on this line the amount determined in Part I, line 4. If the special partnership or partnership has an exemption decree under the Puerto Rico Tourism Incentives Act or the Puerto Rico Tourism Development Act, you may use the debts of the special partnership or partnership in proportion to your share, to increase your adjusted basis, only to claim losses of the special partnership or partnership from this activity. Also you may use the partnership's current debts assumed and guaranteed by the partner.

Line 7 - Enter the partner's distributable share in the income and profits derived from the special partnership or partnership during the year. This amount is reflected in Part III, line 5 of Form 480.60 EC.

Line 8 - Enter the smaller of the amounts on lines 5(c) and 6(d). This will be the maximum admissible amount of losses derived from partnerships and special partnerships to determine the amount of aggregated net loss from partnerships, special partnerships and corporations of individuals to be used against the aggregated net income of said pass-through entities.

Line 9 - Enter the sum of the income reported on line 7, Columns A through C.

PART III - ADJUSTED BASIS DETERMINATION OF A STOCKHOLDER IN ONE OR MORE CORPORATIONS OF INDIVIDUALS

Line 1 - Enter the adjusted basis of the corporation of individuals at the close of the previous taxable year.

The basis of a stockholder's share from a corporation of individuals will be the amount of cash, or the adjusted basis of any property that is not considered cash, contributed to said corporation.

- (f) Enter other income or profits like for example, the distributable share in the dividends and interests received by the corporation of individuals.

Line 3 - Basis decrease

- (a) Enter the distributable share in the loss attributable to the stockholder on the previous year. This amount shall be the same as line 4, Part V of Schedule R Individual of taxable year 2017. If a stockholder has share in losses from more than one corporation of individuals, the total allowable loss balance, as determined in the previous taxable year, will be attributed proportionally to the loss of each one of the corporation of individuals. The allocation will be made using as a factor the adjusted basis of the stockholder's share in each one of the corporations of individuals at the close of the previous taxable year.
- (b) Enter the distributable share in the corporation of individual's capital losses.

SCHEDULE R1 INDIVIDUAL - PARTNERSHIPS, SPECIAL PARTNERSHIPS AND CORPORATIONS OF INDIVIDUALS (COMPLEMENTARY)

Complete Schedule R1 Individual, if you are partner of more than three partnerships or special partnerships or stockholder of more than three corporations of individuals. As Schedule R Individual, Schedule R1 Individual is used each year to determine the adjusted basis and the net profit or loss on the taxpayer's share in each partnership, special partnership or corporation of individuals, including the loss carryover from previous years.

Use the amount of Schedules R1 Individual as needed. For additional information, see instructions of Schedule R Individual.

SCHEDULE T INDIVIDUAL – ADDITION TO THE TAX FOR FAILURE TO PAY ESTIMATED TAX IN CASE OF INDIVIDUALS

Use this schedule only if you have the obligation to pay estimated tax to determine the addition to the tax for failure to pay estimated tax.

PART I – DETERMINATION OF THE MINIMUM AMOUNT OF ESTIMATED TAX TO PAY

Line 2 – Include the total amount of withholdings and credits provided by the Code or special acts for the taxable year, including the non refunded tax paid in excess corresponding to the previous taxable year.

Line 3 – If the amount of estimated tax to be paid is $1,000 or less, you were not required to pay estimated tax, thus, do not complete this Schedule.

Line 4 – If you are a farmer and elected the provisions under Section 1061.22 of the Code, then multiply line 1 by 66 2/3%.

Line 5 – Enter the greater of the amount shown on lines 19 and 20, Part 3 of the preceding taxable year's return, or an amount equal to the tax determined at the rates and under the law applicable to the taxable year using the data in the preceding taxable year return. For additional information, refer to the part of Penalties under the topic of OBLIGATION TO PAY ESTIMATED TAX.

PART II – ADDITION TO THE TAX FOR FAILURE TO PAY

Section A – Failure to Pay

Select the oval for calendar year if your taxable year ends on December 31, otherwise, select the oval which indicates fiscal year. If you selected the oval for fiscal year, enter in Columns (a), (b), (c) and (d), the date corresponding to the 15th day of the fourth month, sixth month, ninth month of the taxable year, and the first month following the close of the taxable year, respectively.

Line 8 – If the obligation to pay the estimated tax was met for the first time before the first day of the fourth month of the taxable year, enter in each of the Columns 25% of line 7. If the obligation was met for the first time after the last day of the third month and before the first day of the sixth month of the taxable year, enter in Columns (b), (c) and (d) 33% of line 7. If the obligation was met for the first time after the last day of the fifth month and before the first day of the ninth month of the taxable year, enter in Columns (c) and (d) 50% of line 7. If the obligation was met for the first time after the last day of the eighth month, enter in Column (d) 100% of line 7. If there is any change in the computation of the estimated tax, enter the amount of the installment according with the corresponding change.

Line 9 – Enter in Column (a) the amount of estimated tax paid no later than April 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the fourth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year); in Column (b), the estimated tax paid after April 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the fourth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year) and no later than June 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the sixth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year); in Column (c), the estimated tax paid after June 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the sixth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year) and no later than September 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the ninth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year); and in Column (d), the estimated tax paid after September 15 of the taxable year (the 15th day of the ninth month of the taxable year if you have a fiscal year) and no later than January 15 following the taxable year (the 15th day of the first month following the taxable year if you have a fiscal year). Transfer the total of this line to Schedule B Individual, Part III, line 1.

Line 10 – If various payments were made in the periods described in the instructions for line 9, indicate the amount and date of the payments.

Line 11 – To determine the amounts to be entered in Columns (b), (c) and (d), you must complete lines 11 through 17 of previous column.

Any overpayment, after covering the estimated tax payment of the corresponding installment, will be attributed first to the amount of estimated tax of previous installments due and not paid and then to the subsequent installments.

Section B – Penalty

Line 18 – 10% of the estimated tax of each installment due but not paid will be added to the tax.

Line 19 – The amount determined on this line reflects the proportion of the penalty attributable to the installments of estimated tax paid after the due date, if applicable.

SCHEDULE V INDIVIDUAL – DETAIL OF NET OPERATING LOSSES FROM PREVIOUS YEARS

Include with your return one Schedule V Individual for each industry or business for which you are requesting a deduction for net operating losses from previous years. In the case of married persons filing jointly or who file under the optional computation of tax, each spouse will include with the return one Schedule V Individual in which each one reports his/her available net operating losses and which are claimed on the schedule corresponding to the industry or business. Select the oval that identifies the schedule to which it belongs and to which the total available loss for the taxable year will be transferred.

Select the oval located in the heading of this Schedule to indicate whether it belongs to the taxpayer or to the spouse.

Losses incurred in an industry or business that is the taxpayer's or the spouse's principal business or industry, may be claimed against the income from other sources, except from salaries and pensions. Those losses incurred in activities that are not the taxpayer's or his/her spouse's principal business or industry, may be deducted only against future income from the specific activity that produced the loss.

On this Schedule you must indicate the year in which the loss was incurred, the loss incurred, the amount used in previous years, the adjustment required under Section 1033.14(b)(1)(E) of the Code, the amount available and the expiration date, if any.

Any excess in the losses incurred by the principal business or industry during one year may be claimed in future years, as applicable, according to the period when the loss has been generated:

- For taxable years beginning before January 1, 2005, the losses incurred have a carryover period to each one of the following seven (7) taxable years.
- For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2004 and before January 1, 2013, the carryover period for the incurred losses will be twelve (12) years.
- For losses incurred in taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012, according to the limits provided by Section 1033.14(b)(1)(D) of the Code, the carryover period will be ten (10) years.
- In the case of a new business that operates under a Special Agreement for the Creation of Jobs, as provided by Act 1-2013, they may deduct the net operating losses incurred in the first two (2) years of the Agreement, for a ten (10) year period.

However, Section 1033.14(b)(1)(E) of the Code provides an additional limitation applicable in the case of individuals that reflect a net operating loss in their industry or business for three consecutive taxable years. In these cases, the amount of loss to be carried over in the third taxable year that begins after December 31, 2014 and any subsequent taxable year, will be 50% of the loss incurred in that year. For these purposes, each type of industry or business will be considered separately and a rental business of real property will not be considered as an industry or business. This limitation will be reflected in Column (C) as an adjustment to taxpayers that have generated losses, as indicated, on their activity from Industry or Business (Schedule K Individual), Farming (Schedule L Individual) or Professions and Commissions (Schedule M Individual). Since a real estate rental business will not be considered as an industry or business, this adjustment will not be taken into account in determining the net operating loss from a Schedule N Individual.

This restriction is illustrated with the following example: Taxable year 2015 is the third taxable year commenced after December 31, 2014 for which taxpayer "X" has derived a loss in his/her industry or business. The amount of such losses are ($50) for 2013, ($100) for 2014, and ($200) for 2015. In the tax return for taxable year 2016, "X" may claim as carryover the total losses from years 2013 and 2014, but only 50% of the loss of 2015 for a total of $250 ($50 + $100 + ($200 x 50%).

On the other hand, any excess in the losses incurred in an activity that is not the principal industry or business, shall be treated as an allowable deduction against the gross income from such activity in subsequent taxable years.

SCHEDULE W INDIVIDUAL – DETAIL OF DIRECT ESSENTIAL COSTS AND OTHER COSTS

Include with your return one Schedule W Individual for each industry or business for which you are claiming a deduction for direct essential costs and other costs on Schedules K, L, M and N Individual in the individual return. In the case of married persons filing jointly or who file under the optional computation of tax, each spouse will include with the return one Schedule W Individual detailing the direct essential costs or other costs which are claimed in the corresponding industry or business schedule. Select the oval that identifies the schedule to which it belongs and to which the total deductions will be transferred.

Select the oval located in the heading of this Schedule to indicate whether it belongs to the taxpayer or to the spouse.

OBLIGATION TO PAY ESTIMATED TAX

WHO HAS THE OBLIGATION TO PAY ESTIMATED TAX?

Any individual whose estimated tax for any taxable year is more than $1,000, except the following:

- those whose gross income was derived exclusively from wages or pensions subject to withholding of tax at source;
- those whose gross income comes exclusively from remuneration received for services rendered to the Government of the United States subject to withholding of tax at source for purposes of the United States Government;
- those whose gross income comes exclusively from remuneration for services performed in agricultural labor not subject to withholding of tax at source under Section 1062.01 of the Code; or
- individuals who in addition to the income listed above receive less than $5,000 in income from other sources.

The estimated tax will be the excess of:

- 1) the amount of tax estimated by the individual for the taxable year, including the alternate basic tax and the gradual adjustment, among other taxes, over
- 2) the amount of withholdings and credits provided by the Code or special laws estimated by the individual for the taxable year, including the non refunded tax paid in excess corresponding to the previous taxable year.

However, if the total amount of tax is $1,000 or less, you are not required to pay estimated tax.

PAYMENT OF TAX

The estimated tax for the taxable year must be paid in four equal installments:

1st installment:	15th day of the fourth month
2nd installment:	15th day of the sixth month
3rd installment:	15th day of the ninth month
4th installment:	15th day of the first month of the following taxable year.

If the obligation to pay estimated tax arises for the first time after the last day of the third month and prior to the first day of the sixth month of the taxable year, the installments will be:

1st installment:	15th day of the sixth month
2nd installment:	15th day of the ninth month
3rd installment:	15th day of the first month of the following taxable year.

If the obligation to pay estimated tax arises for the first time after the last day of the fifth month and prior to the first day of the ninth month of the taxable year, the installments will be:

1st installment:	15th day of the ninth month
2nd installment:	15th day of the first month of the following taxable year.

If the obligation to pay estimated tax arises for the first time after the last day of the eighth month of the taxable year, the estimated tax will be paid in its entirety on the 15th day of the first month of the following taxable year.

The estimated tax installments will be paid together with a payment coupon (Forms 480.E-1). Make sure to use the latest revised version of Form 480.E-1 available for each installment. Payments made with coupons reviewed in previous dates may confront problems in their application.

You can also make your payments without the need of a coupon by using the Payments Online Services ("Colecturía Virtual"). For additional information, please call (787) 622-0123.

The estimated tax payments shall be made online by using the Payments Online Services, at the Internal Revenue Collections Offices or you can mail them to the Returns Processing Bureau to the following address:

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
 RETURNS PROCESSING BUREAU
 PO BOX 9022501
 SAN JUAN PR 00902-2501

Payments with managers checks, checks or money orders at the Internal Revenue Collections Offices will be made payable to the Secretary of the Treasury.

CHANGES IN THE ESTIMATED TAX COMPUTATION

If there is any change in the estimated tax computation as a result of a change in income, personal exemption, exemption for dependents or for any other reason, the remaining installments must be proportionally increased or reduced to reflect the increase or reduction in the estimated tax. On the other hand, if on or before January 15 of the following taxable year the final income tax return had been filed and the income tax balance is paid, then

- 1) if you are not required to make estimated tax payments during the taxable year but you are required to pay it on or before said January 15, such return will be considered as such payment; and
- 2) if the tax determined in the return, reduced by the deductions and credits provided in the Code or special laws for the taxable year is more than the tax estimated by the taxpayer, such return will be considered as a change in the computation of the estimated tax.

FARMERS

If 2/3 or more of an individual estimated gross income was derived from agricultural activities, the payment of estimated tax will be due on January 15 of the following year, if the income tax return is filed on a calendar year basis, or no later than the 15th day of the month in which the following taxable year begins, if the income tax return is filed on a fiscal year basis.

Farmers who file the income tax return no later than January 31 of the following year (if they file on a calendar year basis) or no later than the last day of the month in which the following taxable year begins (if they file on a fiscal year basis) and pay in its entirety the total amount determined on the income tax return no later than on said date, it will be considered as if the estimated tax payment would have been made no later than January 15.

PENALTIES

The Code establishes a 10% penalty of the amount of any estimated tax installment not paid. For these purposes, the estimated tax will be the smaller of:

- 1) 90% of the tax for the taxable year, or
- 2) the greater of:
 - a) the total income tax determined as it results from the preceding year's income tax return, or
 - b) an amount equal to the tax determined at the rates and under the law applicable to the taxable year using the data in the return of the individual for the preceding year.

The above subsection 2 should not apply if the preceding taxable year was not a 12 months taxable year, or if the taxpayer filed a return for the preceding taxable year in which a tax was not reflected, without considering any tax credit to which he/she was entitled, including credits for taxes withheld or paid. On the other hand, you may consider any credit for taxes paid or accrued during the taxable year to the United States, its territories and possessions, or any foreign country to which you are entitled.
